MARKET SAVINGS BANK.

The statement of the Receiver of the Market Savings Bank shows the liabilities to be $960,000, with assets of $572,000. The bonds found in the safe were altered largely by Conkling, the absconding Secretary.

POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

In the suit brought by Shahan against ex-Collector Murphy to recover a political assessment of two per cent. on his Custom House salary, the complaint was dismissed, on the ground that the assessments were voluntarily paid. Murphy testified that assessments had been made, and that in some instances he had repaid the money.

ACTION LEGALIZED.

Governor Hoffman, who was in the city to-day, says he signed the bill legalizing the action of the anti-ring grand jury, in obedience to the will of the Legislature, though against his judgment as a lawyer. He believes the act will be decided unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals.

REFORM DEMOCRACY.

The primary elections of the Reform Democracy were held throughout the city last evening. In some of the districts the Tammanyites succeeded in getting their names on the successful tickets. Everything passed off quietly.

STATE PRINTING.

The testimony taken at Albany shows that one Southwick got a commission of twenty-five per cent. for the work he procured for the State printers, and that Terwilager received a commission.

THE AUDIT BILL.

It is believed the Governor will veto the Audit bill which has just passed the Legislature, on the ground that the bill does not provide that the Board of Audit shall include an elective officer.

ENJOINED.

The Adams Express Company have been enjoined, at the suit of Bunce, from parting with one hundred and thirty-two shares of Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, pending the litigation.

Twelve cases of small pox were reported yesterday; five deaths since yesterday; twenty-six during the week. The disease has broken out in five places on the line of the Harlem Railroad.

ROBBED.

The office of the Pittston Coal Company was robbed last night, the robbers gagging and binding the watchman while they searched the safe, from which they obtained about $2,000.

INTEMPERANCE.

Henry Hepner, a German, on Saturday evening shot his son, eighteen years old, killing him instantly. He then dangerously wounded himself. Intemperance was the cause.

"JOSIE."

A morning paper asserts that Helen Josephine Mansfield is in the city, and was, consequently, not ruffianized at Boston yesterday.

RUFFIANISM.

Thomas Hicks was dragged from his bed and beaten almost to death last night in Brooklyn by some unknown ruffian.

DROWNED.

An insane man yesterday drowned himself by jumping from a ferry-boat on East river.

DISSOLVED.

The Yonkers and New York Insurance Company has been judicially dissolved.

NEW YORK, January 28, 1871.

SUICIDE.

Alfred East, an Englishman, twenty-five years old, who boarded at the same house and lodged in the same room in Brooklyn with Professor Panoromo, who was murdered last week, blew his brains out this morning. East left a letter asserting his innocence of any connection with the Panoromo killing. It is said East was unfortunate in recent speculations. East has exhibited great signs of fear since the Panoromo assassination, and seemed as if imaginary detectives were after him, but the lady of the house is sure he was in on the night of the murder. The letter left by the suicide says: "It is God's will that I shall appear before Him. He knows I am innocent with regard to the foul murder of poor, departed Panoromo. May He in time bring to justice the perpetrator of this misfortune! I have contemplated this for some time. I have dreaded the threats and derisions of my enemies. I have done some wrongs in this world, but, thank God, I have never spilled a drop of man's blood."

COIN VS. GREENBACKS.

In the suit of John Townsend and Egerton B. Winthrop against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, to recover $9,315 in coin, which the plaintiffs allege the defendants owe them on bonds, the defendants demurred to the complaint, on the ground that, as it set out bonds themselves, which on their face are to be paid in lawful money, the plaintiffs have no cause for an action for coin, as the United States national currency and greenbacks are lawful money and legal tender by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. Judge Woodruff has sustained the demurrer, but given leave to the plaintiffs to amend their complaint.

VANDERBILT'S TRAP.

The Committee of Citizens have rejected Commodore Vanderbilt's plan for regulating the track of the Harlem Railroad on Fourth avenue, and insist upon the road being passed underground, for which they will appeal to the Legislature.

INDICTMENTS.

The Grand Jury of Hudson county, New Jersey, has indicted "Boss" Bumstead, of the Board of Public Works, Fire Commissioner Thomas Fielder, Chief of Police McWilliams, Police Captain McHarney, and a number of other Republican politicians, charged with ring jobs.

CONGRESS.

Postal Telegraph.

SPEECH OF MR. BECK.

WASHINGTON, January 27, 1872.

HOUSE.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

The House met for general debate.

A few members were absent.

MR. BECK spoke against the telegraph scheme. He said he had been a member of the select committee last Congress on the subject. He then opposed both schemes reported, when neither party ventured their project before the House. He had thought that both had been abandoned. Neither the President nor his Postmaster General had recommended a governmental central telegraph system when this Congress met, on March 4th. Now it was urged as a necessity. The Senate committee, too, was urging a pet scheme, known as the "Hubbard Bill." He continued: That the whole scheme was an effort to still further centralize and consolidate all power in the Government officials at Washington; that the present Postmaster General was an unfit depository for such enormous power; that his scheme would cost the country at least sixty millions dollars outlay to begin with, and an annual tax of ten millions to sustain it; that it would add at least twenty-five thousand additional employes to the sixty-five thousand or seventy-thousand now drawing salaries directly from the Treasury. He charged that the cost of the service here and in other countries had been misstated, and concealed by the Postmaster General, to induce Congress to confer the power, coupled with the great banking system, upon him. He showed that already in England a censorship had been established over telegraphic communication. He contended that it would be done here whenever political or other purposes required it. He claimed that, while the proposed system might suit in a personal government in Europe, where the railroads, stage coaches, and all other machinery, were owned by the Government, the reverse, so long as we are a free people, always must be true here. He contended that the Government might as well take the control of the railroads and express companies, as of the telegraph lines, as the abuses were as great monopolies as dangerous. He reviewed the testimony of Orton, Hubbard and others, as to the working cost of the system in Europe, and showed that when fully considered, it was very little cheaper than our present system. He instanced Belgium as the best managed and most economical of the European systems. He showed that while the uniform charge in Belgium was ten cents for an ordinary message, the average cost of each message to the Government for an average distance of fifty miles was seventeen and one-half cents; yet the Belgian telegraph was self-sustaining, while the annual excess of the expenditures over the receipts in the whole European system was only four millions. He contended that it was ignorance or an attempt to deceive which induced the Postmaster General to say that messages could be sent from New York to San Francisco for twenty cents, without an enormous taxation on the people to sustain a telegraph for their benefit of not over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars on thirty-nine millions of people—and these were generally speculators or men able to pay. There was no demand for a change by the people now using the telegraph; that the railroads were all run by telegraphic orders. Their lines could not be used if the secrecy so much boasted of under the the proposed system was to be obtained. He examined the Hubbard, or Senate Committee, bill in detail, showing that it was a scheme to save from bankruptcy, the grant of a monopoly to a set of bankrupt companies.

Returning to Creswell's report, he read a communication from Prescott, the electrician of the Western Union Company, showing that the Postmaster General had not stated the cost of the system in England truly. While he regretted to see the growing power of the great monopoly known as the Western Union Telegraph Company, he did not know any remedy for it. He did not think that the remedy proposed would do it. It was like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

MR. DAWES replied to Mr. Beck, criticizing particularly the admission that he had no remedy to propose for the great telegraph monopoly. He admitted that up to the present there was no great cause of complaint against the manner in which the Western Union Telegraph Company had administered its great functions; that, perhaps, as long as it remained under its present management there would be no good cause of complaint. But he thought that the remedy for possible mismanagement ought to be found. He was sorry to hear his friend from Kentucky state that he knew no remedy. He regarded the Hubbard proposition as one tending at least to furnish a remedy. Not that he himself was in favor of it. He had no idea that he should ever be drawn to support the scheme of the Postmaster General.

MR. BECK, replying to the remark of Mr. Dawes, said he thought this country was going to be the worst corporation-ridden country in the world; but he was more afraid of the great corporation known as the Government of the United States than he was of any other.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Speeches were also made by Messrs. WELLS, of Missouri, in favor of the organization of the Indian Territory of Oklahama; by Mr. TOWNSEND, of Pennsylvania, on the protection of home industry; by Mr. COGHLIN, in support of the policy of reserving the public lands for the toiling poor; and by Mr. DUKE, for a system of bounty land warrants to soldiers and sailors of the late war.

Adjourned.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Hon. D. N. White has read in place the following act to provide for calling a convention to amend the Constitution:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted etc., That at an election to be held on Tuesday, the fourteenth day of May next, the qualified electors of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized to vote for delegates to attend a State convention to revise and amend the Constitution of the State. The said convention to consist of one hundred and thirty-two members, one hundred of the members to be apportioned among the several counties and to be elected in the same manner as the members of the House of Representatives are now by law apportioned and elected, the other thirty-two delegates to be apportioned at large to the State and to be elected as follows: Each elector to vote for sixteen persons if he choose, and the thirty-two persons having the largest number of votes to be declared duly elected.

SEC. 2. SEC. 3. That the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, on the fourth Tuesday after the election, in the presence of the Governor and Attorney General, and such other citizens as desire to be present, open and count the returns so made to him, and the Governor shall immediately thereafter issue his proclamation, giving the names of the persons duly elected as delegates to the convention, which shall entitle such persons to take their seats and be sworn in as delegates. Any person desiring to contest the seat of any delegate so sworn in, shall proceed as in the case of contesting the seat of a member of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the delegates elected as aforesaid, to assemble at the State capital at Harrisburg on the —— Tuesday of ———, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and to organize by electing one of their number as President, and such other officers as may be needed in the transaction of the business of the convention, and after the convention shall have organized it shall have power to adjourn to any other place within the State if it is deemed advisable.

SEC. 5. Said convention so elected, assembled and organized shall have power to propose to the citizens of this Commonwealth, for their approval or rejection, a new constitution, or amendments to the present one, or specific amendments to be voted for separately, which shall be engrossed and signed by the President and chief clerks and delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, by whom and under whose direction it shall be entered on record at his office and published once a week in at least two newspapers in each county, where two newspapers are published, for four weeks next preceding the day of election that shall be held for the adoption or rejection of the constitution or amendments so submitted.

SECTION 6. For the purpose of ascertaining the sense of the citizens on the expediency of adopting the constitution as prepared by the convention, or of specific amendments which the convention may deem proper to present separately to the consideration of the voters, it shall be the duty of the said convention to order an election, and to issue a writ of election, directed to the sheriff of each county of this Commonwealth, commanding notice to be given of the time of holding an election for said purpose, and it shall be the duty of said sheriffs respectively to give notice accordingly; and it shall be the duty of said inspectors and judges of elections throughout the State to hold an election in obedience to said convention in each of the election districts of the Commonwealth at the legally appointed place of holding the general elections, and it shall be the duty of said election officers to receive tickets either written or printed from the citizens qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly, and to deposit them in a box, which tickets shall be labeled on the outside "new constitution," or separate specific amendments, if any naming the specfic amendment and on the inside "for the new constitution" or "against the new constitution," or "for" or "against" any specific amendments which shall be presented for a separate vote.

SECTION 7. The election to decide for or against the adoption of the "new constitution" or specific amendments shall be conducted as the general elections of this Commonwealth are now by law conducted, and it shall be the duty of the return judges of the respective counties, first having ascertained the number of votes given for or against the new constitution, or separate specific amendments, if any, to make out duplicate returns thereof, expressed in words at length, one of which returns so made shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county, and the other sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, when said returns shall be opened, counted and published as the returns for Governor are now by law counted and published, and when the number of votes for or against the new or revised constitution or for or against separate specific amendments; if any, shall have been summed up and ascertained, and the duplicate certificates thereof delivered to the proper officers, the Governor shall declare by proclamation the result of the election, and if a majority of the votes polled shall be for the new or revised constitution or for any separate specific amendments, such new or revised constitution and separate specific amendments shall be henceforth the constitution of this Commonwealth.

THE COMMERCIAL TREATY.

A messenger left the Foreign Office yesterday with important dispatches for Lord Lyons, British Ambassador to France. PREPARED FOR REVOLUTION.

PARIS, January 27.—The plan of a Republican revolutionary uprising has been organized over the whole territory of the south of France. The movement was held ready for an immediate commencement in case Thiers' resignation of the Presidency resulted in the appointment of the Duke D'Aumale or Marshal MacMahon to the chief authority of the executive. The Republicans keep the peace only subject to the Bordeaux arrangement for the establishment and maintenance of a Democratic form of government in France. Any authorized attempt which may be made for the restoration of the monarchy absolves them from their obligation, and they will proceed to take up arms. Gambetta's recent voyage to Bordeaux induced an understanding with the Republican leaders on the subject. Supplies of money, arms, ammunition and provisions, and all other necessary requisites, were on hand; and then followed a pledging, or formation, of a resolution, to the effect that if civil war should be determined on, the fight would be continued, and that the Republicans shall in the meantime maintain their preparations for future possibilities.

THE POPE AND THE CZAR.

ROME, January 28.—The Pope yesterday granted an audience to Grand Duke Michael, brother of the Czar of Russia. This is regarded as indicative of a reconciliation of the differences which have existed between his Highness and the Czar. It is reported that the Pope will in return ask for permission to refill the vacant Polish Episcopal Sees, and expressly sanction the adoption of the Russian language in the Roman Catholic churches of those provinces with a mixed population lying between Russia proper and Poland proper.

BY MAIL.

THIS is what occurred at Geneva, Switzerland, the other day, owing to the machinations of the green-eyed monster. Gounod's "Faust" was performed, and one M'lle Dufaure sang "Marguerite." During the first act the other singers won more applause than she. This mortified her so much that she refused to go on the stage in the second act. A novel scene now ensued. The manager stepped before the curtain and said that M'lle Dufaure refused to sing because the audience discriminated against her in the applause. He appealed to the gentlemen to do better toward her. Some laughed and refused, but most of the audience promised to gratify her. So she appeared. A storm of applause greeted her. She wept tears of joy. Renewal of the applause. The other actors grew jealous in their turn, and refused to play. So the manager had to dismiss the audience and refund the money.

A HORRIBLE story is told in a letter from the district of Plotsk, Russia, giving the particulars of a murder committed last November. A landed proprietor of the district, while returning to his home with 5,000 roubles which he had borrowed from a neighbor in his possession, was overtaken in a forest by a masked man, who demanded his life or his money. The money was given up, and the man returned to his creditor's house to relate the misadventure, and was induced to spend the night there. On the next morning the host entered his son's room, and to his consternation saw, half hidden beneath the pillow of the sleeper, a loaded revolver and the stolen package of 5,000 roubles. In a transport of fury and shame the unfortunate father seized the revolver and killed his son.

THE sympathizers with the old Catholic movement at Rome have started a weekly paper in French, called the Esperance de Rome. Dr. Frederic Nery is the editor, and the prospectus states that Dr. Dollinger, Father Hyacinthe, Professors Friedrich, Reinkens and Michelis have promised their support and cooperation. "Our religious programme," the editor says, "is resumed thus: Church reform—no schism—but spiritual union, in a church truely Catholic, with all those who believe in Christ and hold to the Apostles' Creed. In politics we advocate universal peace. We desire the unity, development and prosperity of Italy, that she may become the true representative of political and religious liberty."

NAPOLEON appears to be again gradually lifting his head though in an obscure and humble way. We have already announced the election of Prince Napoleon to the Council of Ajaccio, Corsica. This is no very important political honor, but in the present unpopularity of the Napoleon family will be considered by them a favorable symptom. In the French Assembly last week an excited member proposed the passage of a resolution declaring the confiscation to the state of the property of the family of Napoleon III. Only twenty members voted in favor of the proposition, which was otherwise received with derision.

MEMPHIS, January 27.—The following directors of the Memphis and Paducah Railroad were elected to-day: Jno. Overton, Jr., D. M. Herring, H. S. McComb, E. Norton, H. S. Rodgers, Alfred T. Lacy, W. P. Morton, J. M. Ryan, L. S. Tremble. E. Norton was elected President. The road from Memphis to Covington, which is principally graded, has been ordered to be completed at the earliest possible date, and it is expected that the entire road will be finished within this year.

CINCINNATI AND SOUTHERN.

CINCINNATI, January 28.—The charter granted by the Kentucky Legislature to the Cincinnati and Southern Railroad provides for the survey of one or more routes via Nicholasville and Danville, in the direction of Sparta, Tennessee, the choice of routes to be made by a vote of the people of Cincinnati, and impose a per capita tax of 40 per cent. on each passenger across the Commonwealth of Kentucky, 25 cents for each passenger traveling one hundred miles, and one cent per hundred pounds on through freights. The Commercial this morning says of the latter, that it is in effect a blackmail demand, and the insolence of it is not less remarkable than its illegality. It says: We do not suppose there are many persons in Kentucky, in or out of the Legislature, who expect the tax to be paid.

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN EXTENSION.

Green Bay is in a blaze of delight over the completion of the Chicago and Northwestern extension, which was celebrated in that ancient town on the 17th instant, with a grand banquet and ball and a free entertainment at the New Opera House. The extension, as it is called, stretches from Green Bay up the shore a distance of fifty miles to Menominee and opens up the great lumber regions about Peshtigo, Penzaukee, Big and Little Suamico and Menominee—the region in fact, traversed by the terrible October fire; so that Chicago is now in direct rail communication with the very heart of the great lumber region of Wisconsin. With its aid the devastated country will rapidly resume its old industry, and the great mills at the points named will soon be running again.

It is now the intention to vigorously push the surveys from Menominee to Escanaab, and up the river to the Menominee iron region. Green Bay is to be congratulated that the railroad has invaded Sleepy Hollow. She will rise from that stagnation in which she has been resting so long, and become the city of the present, the centre of an immense industry receiving the lumber products of the great country behind her, and sending exchanges. Green Bay has been liberal in her railroad grants, and with the prospect of the speedy completion of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers improvement by the Government, will no longer be a good place to emigrate from. Chicago may also claim a share in the future benefits to accrue from the opening of this great lumber tract.

A NEW LOUISIANA RAILROAD.

The Shreveport Southwestern publishes the charter of a newly organized company, with domicile in Shreveport, which proposes to build a railroad from that place to a point on Red river at or near White Oak shoals, crossing Cross lake at or near Rocky Point, and Ferry lake at or near Mooringsport, and thence to the line between Arkansas and Louisiana.

The proposed road will traverse a level country, by a direct route, and will secure to Shreveport the trade of the region above the Raft. It will tap the International and other roads that are designed to enter Texas at its northeastern corner from Missouri and Arkansas, and will also draw trade from the fertile Indian Nation, west of Arkansas.

The name of the new road is the Shreveport, Clear Creek and Arkansas Railroad; the capital stock not less than $2,500,000 nor more than $4,000,000, in shares of $100, and amount necessary to be subscribed for organization $500,000. The corporators are Messrs. A. H. Leonard, T. P. Hotchkiss, George R. Wilson, A. M. Burnham, G. W. Dillard, Moses H. Crowell, George L. Smith, per Crowell, W. D. Wylie, C. C. Harrell.

THE MISSISSIPPI AND NORTHERN RAILROAD COMPANY

Was organized in June last, under the general incorporation act of Iowa, and will lay a track from Keithsburgh, Ill., to Council Bluffs. The survey and estimates have been made from Keithsburgh to Oskaloosa, and an engineer corps is now running the line to the western terminus. Local aid has been pledged by all the counties on the line west from Oskaloosa to Adair and Cass. A citizens' meeting was held on Saturday night last at Atlantic, to consider the subject. Over $250,000 dollars of local aid has already been actually secured on the east end of the line. The Pennsylvania Construction Company, of which Thomas A. Scott is President, has agreed to furnish the means to construct the road, whenever the required aid shall be subscribed.

THE project of a railroad from Dayton, Ohio, to Louisville, Kentucky, has been revived. Ninety-four miles of new road would connect Dayton with North Vernon, Indiana, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, whence there is a direct line of road recently completed to Louisville. This route passes through a country highly favorable for railroad construction, and should the project be carried to completion, it would bring Dayton twenty miles nearer Louisville and Memphis, and thirty-nine miles nearer St. Louis than the present line via Cincinnati. It would have valuable connections and feeders, and the gentlemen agitating the matter are sanguine that it will prove successful financially.

—A London special states that the Emperor of Germany recommends to the Earl of Granville, British Foreign Minister, the negotiation of a treaty suppressing the Internationals, principally by rendition of all political refugees; also that the Spanish Bourbons have agreed to support Alphonso, son of ex-Queen Isabella, for the throne, the Duke de Monpensier to assume the Regency until the Prince reaches his majority.

ST. LOUIS.

Destructive Fire.

ST. LOUIS, January 28.—A fire broke out in the extensive works of the St. Louis Brass and Hardware Manufacturing Company, 809 North Second street, at five o'clock this morning, and extended to the lime and commission house of M. D. Hellzell & Co. on one side, and to the tobacco factory of Moran & Powell on the other. All the buildings were destroyed. The loss on the brass foundry is estimated at $127,000; insured for $52,000. The loss of Hellzell & Co. is about $20,000; insurance unknown. The loss of Moran & Powell is $15,000; insurance $9,500.

ANNIVERSARY.

To-day a considerable number of rationalists and spiritualists celebrated the one hundred and thirty-fifth birthday of Thomas Payne, at Avenue Hall. To-day a petition to Congress protesting against the adoption of any amendment to the Federal Constitution specially recognizing the divinity of Christ was circulated and generally signed by the audience.

ALEXIS.

Grand Duke Alexis and Councilor Machin visited the Benton Mission Sunday School to-day, and Mr. Machin delivered a brief address to the children. This event is especially noteworthy, as it is the first time that the Grand Duke has visited any school or church other than the Greek church since he has been in this country.

FATAL TRAGEDY.

An altercation occurred last Wednesday night at Stage Station, nine miles from Newton, Kansas, between an employe of the Southwestern Stage Company, and a man named Taylor, which was amicably arranged; but subsequently the stage man fired at Taylor, but hit and killed a man named Merrill, a friend of Taylor's, whereupon Taylor shot and killed the stage man.

THE WEATHER.

The weather turned very cold last night, and to-day has been the coldest of the season, the mercury standing in the neighborhood of zero all day. The river is full of floating ice, and navigation is suspended except by the ferry boats. One or two more such days as to-day will very likely gorge the ice between here and Cairo, and shut us off from the southern points except by railroad.

CINCINNATI.

National Military Asylum.

CINCINNATI, January 27.—The Examining Committee of the National Military Asylum visited the Soldiers Home at Dayton, yesterday, for the purpose of examining into the physical condition of the inmates, with a view to reducing the number at that point.

M'DONALD CHEEK SENTENCED.

The jury in the case of McDonald Cheek, for the murder of his father in law, Thos. Harrison, near Lawrenceburg, Indiana, rendered a verdict at two o'clock this afternoon, in Brookville, of murder in the first degree, and sentenced him to be hung. This was the second trial. The verdict is similar to the first. The result is the more significant, inasmuch as testimony, regarded as strongly in favor of Cheek, was presented at this trial that before did not go to the jury.

DISTILLERY CASE DECIDED.

In the United States Court, yesterday, in the case of the United States vs. Peter Schwab and sureties, to recover thirty thousand dollars for alleged violation of distillers' bonds in non-payment of taxes, a verdict was rendered in favor of the Government in the sum of twenty-two thousand eight hundred and forty-five dollars.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

John Lee, the driver of a transfer wagon, was run over by an engine at the Little Miami freight depot, yesterday evening, and was instantly killed. His body was horribly crushed. His head was almost severed from the shoulders.

ALEXIS.

CINCINNATI, January 28.—The movement to invite Grand Duke Alexis to visit Cincinnati on behalf of the citizens has taken a definite and substantial shape, and a committee, with Henry Probasco as chairman, will proceed to Louisville to-morrow night to personally tender him their hospitalities. If he comes he will be entertained at the Burnet house, where the grand ball will occur. The number of invitations will be limited to five hundred.

NEWPORT AND CINCINNATI BRIDGE.

It is expected that trains will pass over the Newport and Cincinnati bridge in March.

SMALL POX.

The small-pox here is rapidly disappearing. The death rate last week was over fifty.

TENNESSEE.

Homicide.

NASHVILLE, January 28.—Henry Williams, a colored stone mason, insulted an Italian woman, a keeper of a fruit stand in front of the Maxwell House, this afternoon. William Hyronemus, a respectable citizen, interfered, and was knocked down by Williams. Hyronemus drew a pistol and fired at Williams, but missed him and was again knocked down. Hyronemus, in rising, was advanced upon by Williams with a stone, when he continued to use his pistol, firing some four shots, eventually killing his assailant. A coroner's inquest was immediately held. A verdict of justifiable homicide was rendered. The affair created much excitement.

ALEXIS.

MEMPHIS, January 28.—Admiral Poisset telegraphs to Mayor Johnson that the Grand Duke will arrive here on Friday and remain on the Great Republic. A grand ball will doubtless take place on Friday night at the Overton Hotel.

THE WEATHER.

To-day was the coldest of the season.

MILWAUKEE.

Democratic Convention.

MILWAUKEE, January 28.—The Democratic city convention took place yesterday afternoon. Each ward was well represented. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the enactment of a bill now pending in the Wisconsin Legislature, known as the temperanse bill. The principal object of the convention is to unite the Democracy of the city for the spring campaign.

OPPOSED TO REMISSION.

The Merchants' Association of this city passed resolutions opposing the enactment of the bill now pending in Congress for a remission of duties on material used in rebuilding the burnt district of Chicago. They deem such a measure detrimental to home industry, especially in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, where immense capital is invested and thousands of persons engaged in manufacturing lumber, brick and other building material, and calling on the Senators and Representatives of Wisconsin to oppose the bill.

—The New York Herald's Washington dispatch says a convention of discontented Republicans will be held in Cincinnati immediately after the Philadelphia convention, and it will prepare both a ticket and platform for the Democratic party. The Democratic Convention will not be held until late in the summer, and will then only ratify the work of the discontented Republicans. An effort will be made to nominate Trumbull by the recalcitrants.

—Reports from official sources in China are to the effect that the authorities of the coolie slave trade which have recently been brought to public cognizance will arrest attention and excite horror wherever the English language is spoken, and the hope is expressed that the concurrent opinion and excited action of all christendom will establish such a police on the sea as to render all coerced emigration inevitably tending to the slave trade impossible.

—The Kentucky House of Representatives on Saturday appointed a committee of six, with the Speaker as chairman, to invite the Grand Duke Alexis to visit Frankfort, and tender him and suite the privileges of the hall of the House during his stay.

THE cholera has disappeared from Constantinople and its suburbs. Clean bills of health are now given to all departing vessels.

THE Wheatland furnaces are again working up to their capacity, after a considerable time of sluggish movement.

MELANGE.

WE do not know what designs the Washington Chronicle has upon our good neighbor the Dispatch, but for some reason it has taken to overwhelming it with flattery. In a recent number it had three quotations, taken from the GAZETTE, but credited to the Dispatch.

IT is the sprightly Courier-Journal which has this unkindness to say of Col. Forney's paper: "An Ohio paper calls upon the Philadelphia Press to 'tell the truth and shame the devil.' We don't know that the devil would be ashamed if the Press were to tell the truth, but he would certainly be very much surprised."

THE wife of an Irish gentleman being suddenly taken ill, the husband ordered a servant to get a horse ready to go for a doctor. By the time, however, that the horse was ready and the note to the doctor written, the lady had recovered; on which he added the following postscript, and sent the servant off: "My wife having recovered, you need not come."

MR. CAPOUL must have improved since he sang here. The Cincinnati and Louisville papers are quite wild in their enthusiasm about him, and as for Nilsson, the Courier-Journal is so utterly insane about her that we expect to hear of it following her about from city to city, and thus dropping its present local habitation and becoming the Nilsson Courier-Journal.

AN economical Iowan who had a toothache, determined to remove the tooth in the Indian fashion. Accordingly he bent down a sapling in the woods, lay down himself, and attached a stout cord to his tooth and the sapling. Then he touched the spring, and the next thing he knew, he had jumped over a grove of about forty small trees, and was trying to get out of a small pond that he happened to alight in.

WHEN Artemus Ward was a Cleveland reporter this is the way he wrote local brevities: "Our old friend Bruce met with an accident this morning. His horse took fright and ran away, and in jumping from the buggy Mr. B. suffered a sprained ankle. Bruce little thought, when he defended Cole, the Ashtabula wife poisoner, that, in less than four years from that time he would jump from his buggy and sprain his ankle. Such is life."

THERE is such a thing as being "too smart." A Detroit thief went to the door of a house, rang the bell and asked the servant to call her mistress, as he had particular business with her. The lady came, when the stranger informed her that Mr. ——, naming the name on the door plate, had sent him to the house to get twenty dollars which was due him. But for one thing he might have got the money. The lady's husband had been dead seven years.

A SUIT has been brought against the Rev. Dr. Scudder, of Hartford, by W. E. Clark. The latter brings suit to recover a building on the Methodist camp ground in Martha's Vineyard. Dr. Scudder built a house on one of the lots owned by the Methodist Association, which Mr. Clark paid for. It cost about $500. Dr. Scudder claims that Mr. Clark presented him with the money. The building stands on leased land, and Mr. Clark cannot sue for the fee or title, and he brings his claims for the amount of the rent.

A FEW DAYS since the Omaha city physician ordered a red flag to be put on a house on Sixteenth street to indicate that one of the inmates had the small-pox. Immediately thereafter a large crowd collected in front of the house and was being rapidly augmented, when a gentleman passing had his curiosity excited sufficiently to inquire what the gathering was for. The reply was that they were waiting for the auction to commence. When the real significance of the flag was understood, the crowd dispersed much more quickly than it had assembled.

IT is interesting to learn that at a meeting of the William M. Tweed Club, the other evening, the names of William M. Tweed, William M. Tweed, Jr., and Richard Tweed were erased from the roll of members, and, the coat having thus fallen from its buttons, there is some talk of changing the name of the club. Since the Tammany Sachems have undertaken to shut the Tammany Ring out of Tammany Hall, we see no reason why the whole Tammany family should not be expelled from the Tweed Club. But what will be left when they are gone?

A DISTINGUISHED ADMIRAL in our navy tells a good one of his ten years old lad, a very bright boy who has been carefully brought up in the Episcopal church. Coming home from school the other day he informed his mother that in common with all the boys in school he had that day received twenty-five bad marks. "For what, pray?" "Oh, because the teacher asked us to repeat the second commandment, and none of us did it." "Why, my boy, you certainly knew that. Why did you not repeat it?" "Of course I know it, but do you think I was going to stand up there and repeat it and have all the boys think I was religious!"

THE first appearance of John Sherman and Schuyler Colfax upon the political stage was, it seems, at the Philadelphia Convention that nominated General Taylor. Sherman was recommended for Secretary of the Convention by an Ohio delegate, who humorously added that if elected to that position it would be in all probability the only office the young gentleman would ever hold, as he came from a hopelessly Democratic district. Shortly after an Indiana delegate nominated another Secretary and made a similar speech concerning him, and he was chosen, and Schuyler Colfax and John Sherman met each other and shook hands for the first time at the Secretary's desk.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

MONDAY, JAN. 29, 1872.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 46½.

THIS morning we publish the bill read in place in the Legislature, by Hon. D. N. White, providing for the calling of a convention to amend the Constitution. Its provisions should be carefully studied by all.

PHILADELPHIA has been relieved from the payment of the militia tax by the Legislature. If the Governor signs the bill we do not see any good reason why its immunities should not be extended all over the State.

MR. PARKE GODWIN, one of the most eminent of editors, and one to whom the New York Evening Post owes much of its excellence and success, has, we are glad to learn, again joined the editorial corps of that journal, and, for the present, will occupy the chair of Mr. Bryant, during that gentleman's southern tour.

CANADA is looking after her cigar trade and in all probability the heavy inland taxation on the manufacture of the weed, will be removed and foreign cigars shut out of the market by a heavy inport duty. It is a bad policy which makes that country ship the unworked tobacco to Havana and bring back the cigars with the Cuba brand, and yet the thing is done every day.

A VERY distinguished company of ladies and gentlemen sailed from New York on the steamer Morro Castle, one day last week. There were the poet Bryant, his daughter and brother, General and Mrs. McClellan, Mr. Church, editor of the Galaxy, Senator and Mrs. Stockton, Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher and several others who were all guests of one of the owners of the steamer which is to take them to Nassau and Havana.

WE PUBLISH this morning a memorial signed by all the leading members of the Allegheny county legal fraternity, petitioning for the passage of the new fee bill now pending in the Legislature. The document is a very strong one and will doubtless have much weight with the Legislature. Other petitions of like import are in circulation throughout the county, and, we learn, are being very numerously signed. It is the people who are immediately interested in this question of fees, and their expression on the subject in this manner is very timely.

PHILADELPHIA COUNCILS have just passed a resolution calling on the Mayor of the city to put a stop to the selling of liquor on Sundays. That course of action might very profitably be followed in this city for it is a notorious fact that there is liquor selling going on in Pittsburgh on Sundays, and that too in no concealed manner. Our detectives might do the people an appreciated favor by making a few informations against those who set aside the laws of God and man in desecrating the Lord's day by dealing out their mischievous compounds in the way of intoxicating drinks.

THE Montreal News, a journal thoroughly devoted to the interests of Canada, looks with jealous eye on the rapid expansion of the railway system of this country, and says: "Before the end of the year 1873, New York will have the benefit of two or three additional trunk lines, and is meditating the construction of new and improved docks. We have a formidable rival in New York, but if we improve our river navigation so as to permit six thousand ton steamers to reach Montreal, enlarge our Welland and St. Lawrence, and press on the construction of the Pacific railway, we shall have no cause to envy the rapid progress of the United States, or complain that New York draws commerce away from this port."

WHEN Pittsburgh was threatened with an invasion by the rebel army during the late war, several thousand dollars were subscribed for the purpose of placing ourselves in good position to offer battle to the invaders. The money was never used, and to-morrow there will be held a meeting of the donors to dispose of the amount. It is scarcely probable that any will care to receive back their donations, and, as the sum is too small to be distributed among charitable institutions, we suggest that it may be passed over either to the Mercantile Library Association or the Art Association. As meagre as the sum is, it would be an appreciable amount to either one of these worthy associations, the treasuries of which are not particularly plethoric.

THERE is a bill before the Legislature providing for the regulation of the sale of drugs and poisons, and aiming to prevent adulterations in medicinal articles. We have not yet seen the text of the bill and are in ignorance of the manner and method to be employed to secure its object. The sale of drugs, poisons and medicines should be much more carefully conducted in the State. The purchaser is always at the mercy of the druggist, and the mistakes the latter make are rarely discovered, though often approaching murder itself. There should be a law enacted providing for the thorough education of the pharmaceutist, and for the punishment of the ignorant vender of drugs who makes fatal mistakes.

EVERY ONCE and awhile we hear of happy inventors who have discovered the true process of utilizing the waste screenings from the coal pits, but singularly enough the vast mountains of dust and slack continue to grow greater every day. The last inventor is a Philadelphian, who claims that by his process he can convert the refuse coal into good burning material at a very trifling cost, using only three gallons of benzine and eighteen pounds of rosin No. 3 to render one ton of artificial fuel impervious to moisture, the size of the lumps being two cubic inches. We have little faith in the practicability of the invention, but if it should fill the bill of expectation, it will add materially to the wealth of the operators who lose thousands of tons of coal each year in the process of screening.

PERHAPS no poetical contribution to the transient literature of the day occupies a warmer place in the human heart than the sparkling and tender poem entitled "Beautiful Snow." Its true merit has long been acknowledged, and it is not singular in this age of literary pirates that its authorship should be questioned. The Turf, Field and Farm, in referring to the audacious claim to its ownership put forward by J. W. Watson, Esq., a Bohemian of New York, who over his own name claims the poem as his own, makes out a very clear case in favor of Henry W. Faxon as the author, and to our mind fixes the crime of plagiarism on Mr. Watson. Faxon wrote the poem as early as 1849 in Tennessee, and had it published it 1851. Its great popularity, wherever the English language is known, induces the controversy as to its authorship, and as Faxon is dead, Watson may secure the honor attached to the authorship. The question once more suggests the uncertainty of the true poet receiving the credit for his mental coinings, as he is generally too modest to make good his claims on fame.

THE Columbus, Ohio, State Journal, in a double leaded leader, presents the name of Hon. William Dennison for the Republican nomination to the Vice Presidency. It pronounces him a "capable man of affairs, a true man, a genuine Republican from the beginning, and experienced politician and statesman, a prudent leader in his sphere, a man largely identified with the material interests of the country, a reliable and safe man in any place, and one who would fill the Vice President's chair with grace, dignity and distinction. With such a man as alternate for Grant, the American people might rest in perfect confidence and content, sure that no single crime or casualty could deprive them of a faithful, honest and capable Executive." We heartily agree in all the good things here said about Mr. Dennison, but inasmuch as Mr. Colfax is again in the field, and the country has been quite prosperous under the present administration, hardly any change in the Vice Presidency will be made.

PRICE OF A THRONE.

It appears that M. Thiers has computed the price of the French throne to a franc. He is reported to have said that if Napoleon had fifty millions francs it would take but a short time to restore him to the imperial rule of France. This statement of the President of the quasi Republic of France acquires additional significance from the fact, as our latest advices by cable inform us, that the agents of the ex-Emperor are actively at work among the troops, and freely distributing pamphlets urging the restoration of the Empire as the "ending of all the woes of France." These pamphlets have been found in different barracks and have been seized by the police. But all who are acquainted with French history for the past three-quarters of a century know the charm which the name Napoleon has over the French soldiery. When the first Napoleon was returning from Elba to Paris to dethrone Louis XVIII., he stepped out in front of barracks and forts, and, with head uncovered, said if you wish to shoot your old General, whom you have often borne to triumph and glory on your shields, here he stands before you, now is your time. But not a gun was levelled, not a trigger was pulled.

It may be that history will repeat itself, in part, in the affairs of France, and that the Nephew of his uncle may find himself reinstated in the Tuileries, if it were only for "one hundred days." Having heard in his exile of the growing dissatisfaction with Bourbon rule, and the intense feeling produced by the exhumation of the supposed remains of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette, the elder Napoleon embarked with nine hundred men from Elba on the 26th of February, 1815, and in a few days landed in the Gulf of Juan. He marched through France a distance of about one hundred and fifty miles without meeting any serious opposition. At Grenoble, on the 8th of March, the shout was raised Vive le Empereur, A bas les Bourbons. He marched to Burgoin in triumph, and on the 10th of March found himself in Lyons at the head of 8,000 troops, with thirty pieces of cannon. He was joined at Auxerre by Marshal Ney, whom he embraced most affectionately as "the bravest among the brave." Marshal Soult, who, as War Minister, had denounced Napoleon as an adventurer, also espoused his cause. In less than one month after his departure from Elba, the "Little Corsican" was borne in triumph into the Tuileries, and Louis XVIII was dethroned. His reign however, was of short duration. It lasted just "one hundred days." It cost more however, than the price which Thiers has fixed for the restoration of "Prince Louis." During that short period he spent six hundred millions francs, and sacrificed sixty thousand soldiers.

Thiers, if he made use of the expression attributed to him, had good grounds, no doubt, for doing so, and if it will only require "fifty millions of francs to place Napoleon in power in fifteen days," the President of the French Republic holds his position by a very feeble and uncertain tenure. It might be, however, that "a hundred days" would be the limit of his rule. The Orleans Princes and Henry Dieudonne are as actively at work among the nobility as the Bonapartists are among the army, and it is not at all likely that any man could long hold the rulership of France in the present state of public feeling in that country. If true, we attach great significance to the statement made by Thiers to a distinguished General "that if Napoleon had fifty millions of francs he would be in power in fifteen days," for Thiers is far from being a Napoleonist, and yet is not an Orleanist. The statement shows that the Bonapartists are stronger than their opponents, and that it would not be difficult to reinstate the now exiled Emperor. The price is a very reasonable one, and the money will soon be raised.

GRAY OR McCLURE.

"Some 'organ' or other should take the Republican papers of Philadelphia in hand. All of them, without exception, either support Col. McClure openly or tacitly, Mr. Gray, the regular candidate of the party, being without a single sincere supporter among them."

So says the Pittsburgh Commercial. It is not brave enough to come out boldly in favor of the "bolter" Aleck McClure, who is running for State Senator on the "Reform" ticket. Our cotemporary has not read the Philadelphia Press, or if he has he utters a deliberate falsehood, when he says all the Philadelphia papers, "without exception, either support Col. McClure openly or tacitly." The following editorial taken from the Press, bears us out in this statement:

The canvass in the Fourth Senatorial District grows more and more exciting, and the issues between the candidates will be sufficiently and sharply defined before next Tuesday, the day of election. The Republican voters should bear in mind that Colonel Gray represents not simply the regular Republican organization, but that his record is as honorable and praiseworthy as that of his adversary, and, above all, that he is the representative of the only party in this country that has effected anything like reform. Colonel McClure can be elected alone by Democratic votes, reinforced by a small percentage of Republicans, so that in such event he will perforce bear the relation not of a reformer, but of a disturber, and, even perhaps against his will, he will gradually fall into an antagonism to a party of which he has been so able a champion. Political history abounds in just such instances. No public man in revolt from his party has ever proved himself useful unless sustaining some great principle. And what principle does Colonel McClure contend for that may not be even more forcibly sustained by the regular nominee, fortified by a Republican Legislature and backed by the Republican party? Had Colonel Gray been nominated unfairly, or by force, the case would be different; but no fairer convention was ever held than that which made him a candidate for Senator. The complaint that Mayor Stokely sent in his police to preserve order is answered by the fact that both his (Colonel Gray's) Republican competitors for the nomination yielded to the very large vote by which he was choosen, and also, that whatever turbulence there was came rather from the outside, and was prepared for the purpose of furnishing the excuse of precisely such a canvass as the present. It is too late in the day for any man to arraign the Republican organization as a corrupt one. It has its faults, but these faults cannot be cured by invoking Democratic aid. Political history abounds in instances that, where two Republicans are running for the same office, with no Democrat in the field, many Democrats are just as likely to vote for the regular as for the irregular; vide the last election for Congress in Judge Kelley's district, when, although Colonel William B. Thomas, his opponent, pronounced himself as a Republican, hundreds of Democrats preferred the Judge and increased his majority; also in the contest last October, when Joseph T. Thomas ran as an independent Republican against Charles Porter in the Sixth Assembly district, and was defeated by the latter, who secured a large Democratic support. Another illustration is the attempt of the pro-rebel politicians to discover a Republican weak enough to run as President against General Grant.

Even if they succeed in such a combination it would only give to Grant, the regular Republican, a decided Democratic vote. We dismiss all personal assaults upon Colonel McClure, conscious that such an example can do no good to the Republican party. Let the canvass be conducted openly and manfully, and we have no doubt of the election of Colonel Gray.

Now we are anxious to know what the weak-kneed Republican editor of the Commercial will say, after being detected in such a misrepresentation of the facts, and how he will dodge the issue. We venture to say that he will not acknowledge his error, (?) but will continue to support the "Reform" candidate as against the Regular Republican, Col. Gray, who, according to the Press, has an honorable record, is a true representative of the party, and was honestly nominated by a convention which was never exceded in order and fairness. Come out and show your own colors, and acknowledge that you are for McClure, but don't attempt to hide behind palpable and base misrepresentations. We would much rather be known as the "organ" of the noble and progressive Republican party, even if we do have to stand some scoffing at the hands of our "reformed" contemporary.

FROM OUR EXCHANGE LIST.

The Scientific American thinks that during the past six months good, solid, healthy progress has been made in engineering. The Brooklyn pier of the East River bridge now stands seventy-two feet above mean high tide, while the caisson on the New York side has been sunk to the bottom of the river. The tunnelling at Hell Gate is going on rapidly, and the completion of the Hoosac tunnel will be reached much sooner than would have been the case but for recent additions to our means of blasting and drilling rocks. In marine engineering the compound engine system has been largely extended. New applications of electricity to regulating large and actuating small engines have been made, and devices for increasing safety in the use of steam have been numerous. Many inventions seeking to solve the problem of canal-boat propulsion have been called into existence. Concrete building is winning its way to public favor, and important improvements have been made in the means for protecting property from fire. "In short, the past year has been one of activity and decided though unostentatious progress."

ACCORDING to complaints made by soldiers to the Army and Navy Journal, the army regulations regarding the rights of the men are constantly disregarded by some officers. It appears that menial services are exacted of them; that they are "sworn at" in the most degrading manner; that they are menaced with personal outrages, and even "stricken in the face." Moreover, it is asserted that the "funds raised from the savings of the army ration in each company are so manipulated by unscrupulous officers that the men derive little or no benefit from them." If these complaints are just; and, if it be found that the men themselves are not often equally guilty of misconduct, the attention of the superior officers should be directed to the actions of their subordinates. As the Army and Navy Journal says: "strict discipline is the foundation of military society; but it must be tempered with strict justice. The rights of the soldier must be held as sacred as those of his officers." It is, nevertheless, true that men are natural grumblers, and a vivid imagination or a "too-sensitive nature" will conjure up the phantom of an offence where none was dreamed of, at the very shortest possible notice.

THE Philadelphia North American says: Every great city should have its high grade university, organized on the largest and most comprehensive scale, and sustained by all the endowments that can by any possible means be raised for it. The people of all the regions tributary to such a metropolis look for such an institution. They naturally expect to send their sons thither to be educated, and they will be disappointed if they cannot find education there as advanced as elsewhere. Such a university should not be engrossed by a few such departments as medicine and law, but should embrace all departments known to collegiate training anywhere, including technology, all the modern sciences, and in fact everything connected with the educated direction of our civilization. The great university is the place for the fullest and highest development of them all. Pennsylvania has the basis of two such in the eastern and western universities, the one at Philadelphia and the other at Pittsburgh; but the work of elaboration is slow and difficult. Still we make steady headway, and with our true Philadelphia spirit, though we are hard to start, we are harder still to stop. So if the country wants a national university it may in time find it here in Philadelphia. The aim is high, but it is worth striving for.

MR. ADOLPHUS THEODORE WAGNER, of Boston, has invented, according to the Mechanical Advocate, quite a remarkable machine. It is called a "Psycograph," and its object is to indicate a person's thoughts. The apparatus consists of a combination of rods, at one end of which is a movable pointer, and at the other a flat disk for the operator's hand. Under the pointer is an alphabet, and the whole machine is isolated by resting on glass. All that is needed is nervous electricity. If a person possessing this puts his hand on the disk, the pointer will at once spell upon the alphabet what is passing in the operator's mind. The duties to which this invention may be put are numberless Suspicious men would craftily place the treacherous disk under friends' hands, and so have an excellent opportunity to see themselves as others see them. The apparatus applied to the pulpit would greatly shorten the average sermon, by giving only the thought in it. But it is in Congress that its beneficial effects would be most apparent. Let a gigantic alphabet be placed in full view of the members in each House. When any one means to speak, the "combination rods" can be switched around, and from his seat he can at the same time electrify the pointer and the Senators or Representatives, as the case may be.

THE TRAVELLING STAGE used in the erection of the roof over the St. Pancras Station, London, was the subject of an interesting paper recently read before the Institute of British Architects. The roof, of 240 feet span, consists of twenty-six main ribs or rafters. Serious difficulty was anticipated in fixing these enormous ribs, which, although of great strength when joined together and fastened to the walls, were nevertheless destitute of lateral stiffness. The staging designed to overcome these difficulties was 209 feet long, 40 feet wide and 90 feet high, and was divided into three verticle compartments, which were all screwed firmly to the floor. The first and second ribs were fixed and fastened together by their purlins or midway supports, the two ribs being kept fast to the staging by timber slides. When the fixing of the two ribs was completed, the slides attached to the wings or outer compartments of the centre slides remaining stationary. The two wings were then unscrewed from the floor and moved up on the slides to rib number two and to the site of rib number three, holding rib number one by the purlins and rib number two by the slides. The centre compartment was then unscrewed and moved up into position, and the whole stage was again bolted down to the floor. Rib number three was then fixed in position, and the above operation was repeated until all the twenty-six ribs were placed in position and secured. In the construction of the stage, 26,834 cubic feet of timber were used, and the apparatus was supported on 123 wheels and 19 lines of rails.

The land of the Pharaohs is a strange place for the revival of the code duello, but there it is that the latest example of the old-fashioned fight to the death is afforded. Two gentlemen, one an equerry to the Viceroy and the other an Italian, Gobetti, in the same employ, have succeeded in creating an old-time sensation by pursuing a quarrel through the regulation routine of insult, challenge and duel. Gobetti seems to have been the offending party. He picked continual quarrels with Artine Bey, the equerry, and finally sent a challenge. There was difficulty in selecting a place for the fight, so vigilant was the police of the Khedive, and at last a concert hall was chosen, in the heart of the city, where the combatants met. Another obstacle was the inability to procure rapiers in Cairo. The mart of Damascus was empty of everything except fencing foils, and these, with the buttons removed, were at length accepted. There they fought, with most unscientific thrust and parry, until young Gobetti rushed upon the point of the Bey's weapon and fell dead, pierced through the heart. Although more tragic than the usual modern duel, this exploit of hot bloods under the shadow of the pyramids has quite as little of the dramatic. Death in a dreary concert hall, by the thrust of a buttonless foil, does not carry much honor with it; and it is gratifying to learn that the Viceroy will put all the surviving parties on trial for the unromantic crime of murder.

Two murder cases in "respectable society" have rivited intense public interest in England of late. Both have been commented upon at length in our columns, and the sequel in each is now close at hand. The first was that of Miss Christiana Edmunds, of Brighton, who went about poisoning sweets, and causing them to be given to different persons who had been so unlucky as to arouse her aversion. The second was that of the well known author and classical scholar, Rev. John Selby Watson, who killed his wife. Both these persons have been found guilty and sentenced to be hung. The case of the woman Edmunds is one of the most atrocious on record. It admits of no mitigation, and the sentence will doubtless be carried into effect. As regards Watson, reasonable grounds exist for questioning his sanity at the time he committed his murderous assault, and he has consequently been reprieved by the Queen, and will probably be sent to a lunatic asylum. Still another instance of homicide by a person of social position has just occurred in Herefordshire. The assassin is one Thomas F. Carlyle, a graduate of Oxford and son of a clergyman, and the victim his aunt's coachman, a man named Thomas Price. The act was performed with a double barreled breachloader, and the provocation was that Price tried to prevent Carlyle from committing suicide.

A CURIOUS CEREMONY was recently observed by the Onondaga Indians near Syracuse—the burning of the white dog. This rite seems to have an astronomical as well as a religious significance, being always observed at a certain period during the old moon nearest to the month of February. On the day preceding the feast, solemn preparation by fasting is made. Early in the morning of the appointed day, the tribe meets at the council house, great fires are lighted, guns are discharged, and a general jubilee after the Gilmorean model is organized. A dog, pure white in color, is then strangled, the shedding of blood being unacceptable to the deity honored by the sacrifice. The medicine man then makes a speech, the tribe marches round the dead cur thrice, the medicine man faces towards the east, and throws the body into the flames, keeping up a solemn and monotonous chant during its incremation. The dog is supposed to bear and by his death to atone for all the sins of the nation, and the whole ceremony reminds one strongly of the driving into the desert of the scapegoat by the ancient Jews, from whom it is claimed the American Indians are descended.

THE New York Standard says: Prince Bismarck has printed a notification to the effect that hereafter, in his communications with foreign powers, he will use the German language instead of the French. The inference that this change is intended to add to the humiliation of the French nation is not unavoidable. It is true that for the past one hundred and fifty years French has been almost the exclusive language of diplomacy. But it does not seem necessary or desirable that it should continue to be so. It is the most natural and reasonable thing in the world that the framers of diplomatic dispatches should wish to use their own language, and not that of a foreign country. It will be very long, however, before French will altogether cease to be used for diplomatic purposes. It possesses in this respect qualifications of its own, in which it is excelled by no other language. Bismarck, however, has begun a change which is important in itself, and which is apt to derive a factitious importance from the fact that it is under suspicion of being intended as a slur upon France.

THE New York World says: It will be remembered that some time since a story was started by the sensation press to the effect that an illegitimate son of George Washington was living somewhere in the West. Curiously enough, just after the final exposure of the falseness of this report, a person comes forward and claims that he is really the son of the father of his country. In the course of a litigation now pending in the United States Court in this city concerning the Jumel estate, one of the witnesses, Mr. George Washington Bowen, swore that he believed himself to be the son of George Washington. It is proverbially a wise child that knows its own father, and Mr. Bowen may perhaps not be precisely the wise child referred to. Still he is said to have a strong personal resemblance to Washington, and the fact that he has never before laid claims to his distinguished ancestry does not favor the supposition that he is now attempting an imposition It would, however, be a curious circumstance if the blood of Washington should still be flowing in the veins of those who have hitherto been known as his children only in a metaphorical sense.

ACCORDING to recent investigations when petroleum oils are exposed under certain conditions to the sunlight they absorb from the air oxygen, which is converted into ozone. No chemical combination takes place between the oil and the ozone, but the latter remains free, and oxidizes any substance with which it comes in contact. In oils containing ozone the smell is materially modified, they burn with difficulty, and attack rapidly the stoppers of the vessels containing them, especially if the stoppers be composed of cork. When glass vessels are used it has been found that the color of the glass exercises a great influence over the absorption of oxygen. Decolorised oils exposed in white gloss vessels to the action of sunlight turn yellow, become charged strongly with ozone, and burn with difficulty. This is principally the case with the American petroleums. They should, therefore, be kept in metallic vessels, or, if glass be used, it should be shaded as much as possible from the sun.

THERE are annually consumed in this country, by our young and aged peanut lovers, eight hundred thousand bushels valued in the wholesale market at about one and a half million dollars, so that the sum paid yearly by the consumer cannot be much less than three millions of dollars—a pretty large sum for peanuts. Virginia produces nearly one-half of this quantity, and Tennessee over one-quarter, while about one-eighth is raised by Georgia and North Carolina. Africa furnishes us with the other eighth. It will be perceived that the peanut trade is a very respectable one, from a mere point of size. If the use of this article of diet ever causes any inconvenience to any of our readers, we trust they will remember that things abused are not rightly used, and that the merchant at the corner is no more responsible for the occasional provocations to profanity which his wares give when in the hands of persons of blunt sensibilities, than is the weathercock for the storm.

THE New York Tribune says: English mobs, which perhaps are the least manageable of any, are unpleasantly active of late. In Exeter, the Bishop of that Diocese, while addressing a meeting on the Permissive (Liquor) bill, was violently insulted and assaulted, as we are specially informed by telegraph. We Americans have been so long lectured by our English brethren upon our proclivity to disorder and violence, that it gives us a new sensation to find our monitors in their turn behaving a little like maniacs. We have generally received censure with a patient shrug, and the more equably, perhaps, because we felt in our hearts that we deserved it all and more; but presently, unless the London press stops preaching at us, we may be tempted to resort to the "You're another!" method of retort, which we must candidly say is the worst in the world.

THE New York Times says: Those who tell us that the treasonable spirit in the South is dead, had better read the speech recently made by Jubal Early to a number of students in Virginia. He denies that the "issues" of the war are dead; commends the examples of Lee and Jackson; exhorts his comrades "on many battle fields" to be true; and adds, "Ladies, I have faith in you to instill into the rising generation the memories of the past." Let the Democrats prevail next Fall, and such addresses as this will be heard in every part of the South. But newspapers which are determined to sacrifice everything for the sake of "breaking down" Gen. Grant, attach very little importance to this prospect.

COL. McCLURE is an able man, but a factionist, at times running counter to the wishes of the people to subserve his own selfish purposes. We recollect that this was his course in the first convention which nominated Gen. Geary for Governor. He is a bitter opponent of President Grant because he ignored him in making his Pennsylvania appointments. Col. McClure has, we are aware, rendered good service to the cause of Republicanism, but he has very much marred his influence and standing by becoming the leader of a faction, and we object to him on that ground, as we object to all factionists.—Miners' Journal.

THE Republican State Central Committee met at Harrisburg Thursday and passed resolutions directing the chairman to issue a call, fixing Wednesday, April 10, as the day, and Harrisburg as the place for holding the next convention of the party. Upon this convention will devolve the responsible duty of nominating candidates for Governor, Judge of the Supreme Court, and Auditor General, should the Legislature authorize the election of a successor to Dr. Stanton. It will also form an electoral ticket and appoint delegates to the National Convention in June. The Committee also adopted a resolution thanking its chairman and secretaries for their zeal and faithfulness, and one in reference to the contest in the Fourth Senatorial district, which is calculated to exert so important an effect on the canvass that we give it editorial prominence:

Resolved, That this committee desires to urge upon the Republican voters of the Fourth Senatorial District the great importance of the special election on the 30th instant. Upon the result of that election depends the political complexion of the Senate, that body having been left a tie by the death of Mr. McConnell, and the Republicans of the entire State are looking with deep interest to the maintenance of the integrity of the Republican organization in that district by the success of the regular Republican nominee, Geo. W. Gray.—Press.

THE contest in the Fourth Senatorial District, which comes off on Tuesday next, is unusually exciting and will be close. While the friends of Mr. Gray, the regular nominee, feel confident of his election, the Democrats and "Reformers" as certaily predict McClure's success. We think Gray will be the victor. The day for such reformers as McClure has gone by.—Lancaster Inquirer.

INWARD INJURIES.

Those outward manifestations of frail and departing health are easily detected; in truth, outward signs are often marks of an inward disease The pale face, the lustreless eye, the sunken and hollow cheek, with now and again the circumscribed spot, which, whilst it may not like that on Cæsar's face, denote anger, but it does denote something lacking harmony in the inward workings of the human constitution. How quickly does your ear catch the irregular strokes of the pendulum of the clock which indicates something wrong in its internal workings; but how vastly more certain, and of infinitely more importance, is the muffled beat of the heart, or the gurgling sound of the lungs, in warning us of the faulty performance of those organs in the human organism. When to this is added the cough, the pains in the chest, the difficult breathing, the livid color of the lips, the hectic fever and the night sweats; what more can be wanting to apprise us of approaching danger. Take Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Remove the peccant matter before the wheels of life are loaded until they revolve no longer in unison with that beautiful harmony of health which the God of Nature meant for all.

CAUTION.

The efficacy of PANCREATIC EMULSION and PANCREATINE and its preparations in the treatment of Consumption, Indigestion and Wasting Diseases, depending entirely upon their purity and strength, Messrs. SAVORY & MOORE caution the public against inferior preparations, which are calculated to cause disappointment and to injure the reputation these medicines have acquired. Purchasers should see that each bottle has the names of Savory & Moore and their trade mark.

Sold in Pittsburgh only at
JAMES E. BURNS & CO.'S
DRUG STORE and PERFUME and PATENT MEDICINE DEPOT,
Corner of Penn and Sixth streets (late St. Clair).

FRAUDULENT MISREPRESENTATIONS.

Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprehension of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astringent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medicinal virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

The concocters of these "local bitters" are, in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomachs, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwise enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-mongers to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt were it not that serious consequences sometimes follows the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Wherever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is a known specific, is guilty of a moral, if not a legal misdemeanor. At this season, when the sun is releasing from the earth, in the form of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the utmost service to persons with feeble constitutions.

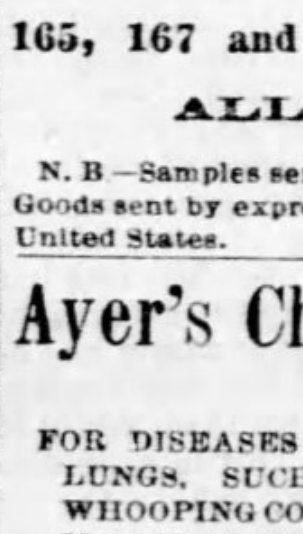
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.



The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

NEW YORK, January 27, 1872.

Gold opened at 109⅛, sold up to 109⅜, and closed at 109⅛@109⅜, very firm. The gold dealings to-day were large. Loans 3 to 6 per cent for carrying. Clearances $37,000,000. Weekly specie shipment, $550,069,26. Money market easy at 4 to 6 per cent.

The weekly bank statement shows the following changes:

Loans, increase	$1,848,100
Specie, decrease	2,465,100
Circulation, decrease	2,300
Deposits, increase	712,700
Legal Tenders, increase	918,850

The statement is unfavorable, and shows a net loss of $1,733,500. The banks now hold $9,225,725 above the 25 per cent. required by law. Governments have not been very active; 5-20s of '64, '67 and '68 advanced ⅛c. The market closed strong. State bonds dull and steady, with but little or no change in prices. Stocks opened firm, but very dull. But little business was transacted during the day. Reading was very strong. The market was heavy during the afternoon; prices declined ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. in the general list. Hannibal & St. Joseph shares fell off 2½ to 4½ per cent. The common stock declined from 51½ to 47⅛, and closed at 48, while preferred stock declined from 66⅛ to 64⅛, closing at 65. At the final close there was a firmer feeling in the general market and slight recovery from the extreme depression of the afternoon.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, January 27, 1872.

ASHES—Reported firm but unchanged. Common Soda, 4 cts: refined, 4⅛@4⅜; Nitrate Soda, 5; Pots, 10; Pearls, 11.

APPLE BUTTER—Common to fair 50@55 cts per gallon, prime to choice, 60@65.

APPLES—The receipts continue light, but the demand is fully up the supply and there is no change to make in quotations; $3,00@3.50 per bbl for common to fair, and $4,00@4,50 for prime to choice.

BUTTER—There is rather more inquiry for strictly prime butter, and this particular kind is firmer and higher; the market is largely overstocked with the lower grades, for which there is little or no demand; prime to choice roll, in small packages, may be quoted at 23@25, and medium to good at 15@20.

BROOM CORN—Continues very dull—indeed, there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations. It is probable, however, that there will be an increased demand next month, as consumers have been buying very sparingly for several months past.

BEANS—Receipts light, but the supply is fully up to the demand, and prices remain unchanged: $2.00@2.50 per bushel.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Continues dull and prices are weak and drooping; quoted in a small way at 4 cts per lb.

CIDER—Sales at $5@10 per bbl, according to quality and size of barrel.

CORN MEAL—Is quoted in a jobbing way at $1.65 per cwt or 80 cts per bushel.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of eastern at $13@16 per bbl, as to quality; Sackett's still quoted at $17.00.

CANDLES—Mould, 12 cts; Star, 21.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands, by the car load, 21 cts; usual advance for small lots. Trade dull.

CHEESE—Reported more active and firmer, but prices are unchanged: Goshen, 15⅛@16; Factory, 14⅛@15; Dairy, 13⅛@14.

COUNTRY LARD—Is coming in freely, and stocks are accumulating; prices, however, remain unchanged. 8@8⅛ cts.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches, $6,00@6,50 per case; Tomatoes, $4,25@4,50; Winslow's Corn, $5,25@5,50.

CONCENTRATD LYE—Quoted at $6 per case.

DRESSED HOGS—Dull, 5@6 cts.

EGGS—Continue slow, and, while the supply in the hands of commission men is light, farmers and peddlers are bringing in a good many, and prices are barely maintained; we reduce our quotations on fresh to 32@33, and pickeled, 25@28.

FLOUR—Is firm, with a fair local trade, and prices are firm, though without quotable change. We continue to quote good to choice red winter wheat at $7.50@7.75; choice Minnesota flour, $7.75, and fair to good spring extras at $7.25@7.50. Rye Flour, in small lots, $5.50. The western markets are nearly all reported firm, while at the seaboard, trade is slow, in the absence of any foreign demand.

FRUITS—Peaches dull; halves, 10@10⅛; mixed, 8@8⅛; quarters, 7@7⅛; peeled, 15@20. Apples, 6⅛@7⅛ for common to fair, and 8@8⅛ for prime to choice. Blackberries, 14@15. Prunes, 10 cts. Layer Raisins, $3 per box, for old, and $3,75 for new; Valencia Raisins, 13c per lb. Messina Oranges, $3,25@3.50 per box. St. Michaels, $4.00@4.50; Valencias, $7,00@7,50 per case. Lemons, $4,00@4.50 per box.

GRAIN—Wheat continues scarce and firm, and, with a good milling demand and diminished offerings, prices are still tending upward; we now quote fair to good red at $1.50@1.53, and a round lot of strictly No. 1 would probably bring $1.55—it is quoted at $1.55@1.56 at Cincinnati and Cleveland, and No. 2 spring could not be laid down here from Chicago much, if any, under our quotations, though there is none of it used by our mills. Oats continue firm, and, with a steady demand, prices are fully sustained; 50@51 cts, by the car load, and 53@55 cts in a jobbing way, from store—we are reported sales, to arrive, at 50. Corn is very quiet and the supply, both in store and elevator, particularly of shelled, is large; however, there is no quotable change in prices, and the feeling is gaining ground that the bottom has been reached, that it is much cheaper relatively for feeders than oats, and the enhanced cost of the latter will tend to improve the demand for the former. We continue to quote, in a round lot way, at 60, on track, and 62 in elevator. Rye is in light supply and steady demand, but unchanged, 90@95. There is little or nothing doing in Barley, and the market continues very dull; in the absence of sales, fair to prime spring may be quoted at 75@80, and fall at 80@85.

GROCERIES—Coffee continues very firm, and the demand in our market is increasing, notwithstanding the enhanced cost; in regard to the future of the market, the feeling generally seems to favor continued high prices, though some of the more conservative operators begin to be impressed with the belief that any further advance is doubtful, and that a slight reaction even from present prices is not improbable. Sugars reported dull at New York, and firm at New Orleans. Molasses, steady. Syrups, especially well known brands, active, and they are cheaper than New Orleans Molasses.

SUGARS—Refined—Standard Hards, 13⅛; A. 12⅛; B, 12⅛; Ex. C, 12⅛; C. Yellow, 12⅛. Porto Rico Sugars—Choice, 11; Prime, 10⅛; Good, 10. Demarara, 11⅛@12. New Orleans—fair, 10; good, 10⅛; prime, 11; choice, 11⅛.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 26; Prime, 25; Good, 24. Fair, 23@23⅛. Java, 38@30. Laguayra, 25@26. Mocha, 45. Roasted Coffee, pure, 28. Lower grades, 25@26.

SYRUPS—Havemyer & Elder's, 60. White Honey, 60. Lovering's, 60. Durant's, 60. Sugar Drips, 75; Brune's, 60; other grades, 48@60. New Orleans Molasses, old, 50. New crop, 60.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9⅛; Good, 9; Fair, 8⅛. Rangoon, 8. Patna, 8⅛.

SPICES—Pepper, 25. Allspice, 18. Cassia, 50. Cloves, 25. Nutmegs, $1.40.

HONEY—Sales at 25@30 cts.

HOMINY—Sales at $4.50 per bbl to the trade and and $5 in a jobbing way.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged; sales of baled, in a jobbing way, at $23@27 per ton, as to quality. The demand is mainly for small lots; however, if the rivers remain closed for a few weeks, until the stocks become somewhat reduced, trade will be more active and prices better.

LARD OIL—Is quoted, in a jobbing way, at 84@85 cts for No. 1 Extra.

LIME—Perrysburg white, $2,00@2,25 per bbl; Cleveland $2.25; Eastern, $1.75.

MILL FEED—Sales, in a jobbing way, from store, at $22@23 per ton for Bran; $25@26 for Seconds; $35@36 for Middlings, and $40 for Oil Meal.

ONIONS—In fair supply and limited demand; quoted at $2@3 per bbl, as to quality.

POULTRY—Quoted at 12@13 cts for Dressed Chickens; 15@17 for Turkeys. Geese, very dull.

POTATOES—Continue very slow, as the demand is very meagre and mainly for small lots. We continue to quote at 75@85 cts per bushel, in a jobbing way, from store.

PROVISIONS—Plain Bacon Shoulders, 7⅛; sugar cured shoulders, 8⅛; ribbed sides, 8, short ribbed, 8⅛; clear, 9; sugar cured hams, 13. Dried Beef, 16⅛. Mess Pork, $14,50@15,00. Ham Sausage, 11. Lard: in tierces, 9⅛; in kegs and buckets, 10⅛@11.

RAGS—Sales, 4@4⅛ cts per lb.

SALT—Is quoted at $1,85 per bbl, by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SHAKER CORN—13@14 cts per lb.

SEEDS—Clover Seed continues very dull, but an early improvement in the demand is expected. Prices remain unchanged at $6,00 buying, and $6.50 selling. Timothy Seed is firmer, with some inquiry and a limited supply; sales of small lots at $3.75@4.00. Flaxseed is quiet and unchanged at $1.80.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY January 27, 1872.

RECEIPTS STOCK.

The receipts of stock at the Central Yards for the week ending to-day, were as follows:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	415 cars.	375 cars.
Hogs	145 "	180 "
Sheep	98 "	103 "
Horses	22 "	24 "
Mules	18 "	4 "
Total	698 "	686 "

FREIGHTS.

On and after the 1st of February, freights from here eastward will be higher on cattle and sheep and a shade lower on hogs. To Philadelphia, the new rate will be 35 cts per cwt on cattle, 20,000 lbs to the car; 35 on hogs, 22,000 lbs, and 35 on sheep, 18,000 lbs. To New York, same weights, 40 cts per cwt. It is rumored that hereafter no through rates will be given, and, so far as we can learn, dealers generally are very anxious that the railroad officials, providing they adopt this rule, rigidly adhere to it, as by so doing shippers will then be placed on equality, and this is what is wanted.

CATTLE.

The market closes a little better, under the influence of more favorable advices from the east, and, besides, the demand, during the latter part of the week, turned out rather better than was expected. In addition to the eastern buyers, who bought pretty liberally, there were some 20 to 25 cars sold to Allegheny dealers, which, at the opening of the week, was not counted upon, and, notwithstanding the heavy run, there were but few in the pens to-day unsold. It is true, as noted in our report of the 24th, prices ruled low, and owners generally lost money, some of them a good deal of it, but the demand turned out better than was anticipated, and, in consequence, trade was more active, and but for this, the decline would have been still greater—there was never anything so bad but what it might have been worse. In regard to the course of the market during the incoming week, dealers differ somewhat in their views. Some have an idea that the run will be heavy, as shippers will be anxious to get their cattle forward before the advance in freights goes into effect, while others are inclined to think that the decline during the past week will tend to cut down the receipts next week. Following is a detailed report of most of the sales during the past three days:

HOGS

The run of hogs, as will be seen, was comparatively light, and, with a full average demand, the market has been steady all week, though, since the date of our last report, (25th there has been no quotable change in prices. Prime to extra Philadelphia hogs, 5,00@5,10; fair to good Yorkers, 4,50@4,65, and prime to extra, 4,75@4,85. The prospects for next week are regarded as being very good, and, unless there should be a heavy run, which is not probable, present prices will be fully sustained, and, in the event of the run being light, an advance is probable. Operators generally are impressed with the belief that the arrivals for the next month are likely to be comparatively light, that the rush is over, and, while no marked advance is expected, they regard any material or permanent decline as being out of the question. At present prices, hogs are much cheaper than either sheep or cattle.

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock continues remarkably steady, and, notwithstanding the offerings during the past few weeks have been fair, prices are firm and fully sustained. Farmers, wherever they can do so, are holding back for the shearing season, being induced to do so by the scarcity and high price of wool, and, as a general thing, they are keeping their best, and disposing of the lower grades; this being the case, there is a scarcity of prime fat sheep, and, as the inquiry is mainly for this latter kind, they sell readily, and, that too, at full prices. The supply of the best grades of fine wool Ohio sheep was not sufficient this week to meet the demand for shipment to New York, and, consequently, prices are a shade higher, as compared with last week, say ⅛ of a cent per lb. We quote prime to extra 90 to 108 lb fine wool sheep (heavy pelts) at 7⅛@7⅜; prime 80 to 90 lb averages, 6⅛@6⅜; common 70 to 80 lbs, 5⅛@6 cts; coarse wool, averaging 85 to 100 lbs, 6⅛@6⅜, according to quality, and good 90 to 100 lb weathers, same kind, at 6⅛@7 cts. Coarse wool sheep, with a mixture of "lamby ewes," fully ⅛@⅜ off. Extra heavy fine wool sheep, however, are wanted at quotations, and there seems to be but little danger of the market being overstocked with this particular kind. Following sales were made since the date of our last report, 24th inst:

River Intelligence.

The weather yesterday was cool but pleasant; thawed slightly in the sun, and at the same time freezing in the shade. Navigation entirely suspended, and the prospects for an early resumption are not very encouraging.

—"Lookout," the Louisville correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writes as follows: In the Court of Common Pleas in this city, the other day, the steamer Mollie Gratz and owners were mulcted in damages of $450 and costs, for failure to fill a contract to deliver a cargo of hay at a point on Tennessee River. It was proven that the hay in transit though received in a rain, was damaged and rotted from want of proper care and stowage on the boat. It was put in the close engine room, and covered with tarpaulins, and being deprived of air heated and rotted. Common carriers, boatmen, must have a general knowledge of causes and effect, and must take judicious, practical care of whatever is intrusted to them, as the law makes them liable and holds them responsible. A captain or mate, or both, must use both discretion and judgment in the offices they fill, though it is probable they thought they were doing their duty in thus stowing and covering the hay. In fact, the steamboat law requires exposed cargo, such as hay or hemp, to be covered. Another steamboat case is pending in the same Court, a case against the masters and owners of the Cincinnati Mail Line steamers, for neglecting to promptly deliver a consignment of lard tierces. The tierces were shipped on the mail boat just before the late suspension of navigation by ice, for the Cincinnati market, and were taken on time to that port, but were not delivered to the consignee for some days. The bill of lading was sent the day after the shipment was made, but the boat was delayed in the ice, and the agent in Cincinnati failed to notify either shipper or consignee, and, in the meantime, the demand for and price of lard tierces declined, and the merchant in this city lost money on his venture through the alleged neglect of duty on the part of the mail company. No doubt "Ephraim No. 1" will manage to "smooth" over the difficulty, and get out of the responsibility. Yesterday was the coldest this year, bright and clear with the thermometer ranging as low as 7 degrees above zero.

—The following is the amount of wharfage paid by St. Louis packet companies during the year:

Packet companies.	Paid at St. Louis.	Paid at all points.
Keokuk Packet Co	$ 4,000 00	$22,900 60
Naples Packet Co	1,307 25	1,910 65
Missouri Packet Co	3,209 55	4,745 80
M. & St. Louis Packet Co	10,977 30	50,276 00

—The following boats are icebound at Cincinnati: C T. Dumont, Ben. Franklin, United States, Wildwood, St. James, Ohio No. 4, St. Charles, Charmer, Fleetwood, Nightingale, Edinburgh, Juniata, Nashville, Belle Vernon, Robt. Burns, R. R. Hudson and Shamrock.

—The Jacksonport (Ark.) Statesman, of the 13th, says: On last Wednesday morning Captain Charles Beard, pilot on the steamer Bluff City, was found dead in his bed. Capt. Beard was an old steamboatman, and his death will be deplored by all who knew him. He had been in ill health for some time.

—A Cairo dispatch says: The Mary E. Forsyth, laid up at the stone depot, has been caught on the wall of the levee by the receding river, and is in a bad condition. Her bottom is one foot out of water at the starboard wheel, while her bow, stern and larboard wheel are in six inches water.

—The Ironton Journal says that the towboat Liberty No. 3 is there, looking after a return trip, which will be hard to find, as there is very little iron on the bank, and holders are disposed to await further developments in the iron market before shipping.

—Mr. Wm Sheely, a former well-known pilot, died at his home in Newport, on Wednesday night, of consumption. He served as pilot in the navy, and previous to his death he had charge of a United States bonded storehouse at Carrollton, Ky.

—There is a bill now pending in the Missouri Legislature, providing that no steamers paying tax in Missouri shall be charged a wharfage tax by any municipality in the State.

—The owners of the J. C. Crossley have petitioned the City Council of Ironton to allow their boat to land at the city wharf without paying tax therefor. The Committee on Wharf have the matter in hand.

—A flat in the tow of the Wildboy, loaded too heavily, sunk at the Louisa landing on Wednesday. All the perishable goods will prove a total loss.

—Dispatches from Captain Maratta to Captain James S. Wise, report the cargo of the Alaska very little damaged, if any.

—There are 360,000 bushels of coal loaded in barges up Kanawha, which will come out when there is 5 feet 10 inches water.

—The Great Republic will not run at night while H. I. H. G. D. is aboard.

—Kanawha river is frozen solid at Charleston.

Question of Admission.

GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGE.

Sensible Suggestions.

MORMONS ON THE RAMPAGE.

SALT LAKE, January 27.—Governor Woods to-day returned to the Legislative Assembly the act for holding a convention to prepare a constitution for the admission of Utah without his approval. He suggests that the organic act of Utah contemplates only such matters as relate to the domestic concerns of the Territory, and no power is therein given to abolish one form of government and adopt another. The power that created alone can destroy without special authority from Congress. The Territorial Legislature has no right to act upon the subject of admission. Further, Utah having less than the required population under the apportionment to one representative in Congress, he thinks it would be well to await the pleasure of the general Government.

The Governor, in conclusion, says: To become a State in the Union is not a right, but a privilege. Good judgment would, therefore, require that before any convention should be called, Utah should place herself in harmonious relations with the general Government. The first and highest duty of the citizen is obedience to law. All violation of the laws of Congress should cease. Polygamy should be abandoned, and the laws should be enacted by you in accord with the laws of Congress upon that subject. Until it is done, the people of Utah cannot expect, nor should they ask, admission to the Union as a State. Religious toleration in the United States is as broad as the wants of humanity, but the Government can not tolerate church dogmas which set at naught its statutes. It is to be regretted that differences of opinion should arise in matters of legislation between the legislative and executive departments, but it is my duty to interpret the law as I understand it, and such shall be my course of action.

The Governor's veto message to the House created much excitement, and members expressed themselves with bitter invectives. Taylor, one of the Apostles, exclaimed: "Are we nonentities? are we serfs? Have we rendered ourselves criminal by putting the power into hands of the people to ask for admission into the Union? As to the polygamy clause in this message," said he: "I consider it an open insult to us. It is worn thread bare, and has become a stink in the nostrils of all respectable people. What laws have we violated? and if we have violated any, why are we not punished for it? Even murderers are brought to testify against us, and every means used to prove us guilty of polygamy. If contrary to the Constitution or laws of the United States, why don't the Federal Judges prosecute us under the United States laws? Is this House to be insulted by such charges as are contained in the document from the Governor? I say, no! I throw it back in his face and tell him it is a falsehood." [Voices]—"Hear, Hear." "We are American citizens, and demand the rights of such."

James W. Young "didn't care a snap for the veto. He asked no odds of the Governor or any other man."

Rockwood said they had been abused long enough. He would gladly die a martyr to the Mormon cause. If there were any blood of their forefathers of '76 in the Assembly they would at once resent the insults.

On motion of J. W. Young, a committee of three to confer with a similar committee from the council was appointed to draft a joint resolution for the purposes named in the vetoed act. The same committee were instructed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the House in regard to the offensive charges in the Governor's veto message.

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS.

[From the American Manufacturer.]

THE process adopted by the Citizens White Lead Works, Pittsburgh, has been brought to great perfection, enabling them to produce an article which now stands superior in the market, and is sought for by dealers in every direction.

THE people of Tyrone are becoming agitated over manufacturing subjects. With their prospective railroad facilities, and coal and iron not far off, they feel as though the point ought to become one of the most important in the State.

A NEW safe manufacturing company has gone into operation in Pittsburgh, under the supervision of J. H. Gibson, with P. Rieneck as financial manager and Wm. Graver as mechanical foreman. These are gentlemen of large experience in the business, and the concern goes into operation with excellent prospects.

ONE thousand men are employed by Lewis, Oliver & Phillips, Pittsburgh, in the manufacture of wagon and agricultural machine hardware, wrought hinges, &c., 1,600 tons of which are produced daily. They have now in store over two millions of these articles in tons, sets and kegs—as for instance, enough end rods for 25,000 wagons. It is an enterprising firm, with a trade all over the United States.

S. SEVERENCE, Esq., is adding new machinery to his spike and rivet works, increasing the capacity to ten tons per day, being much the largest works of the kind west of the Allegheny Mountains. The great variety, both in size and style, of the spikes and rivets made in this establishment renders its great capacity a matter of surprise. The superior quality of the articles manufactured by Mr. Severence is well known and acknowledged by the trade.

THE improved patent hub, for rotary plow cutters, manufactured by Singer, Nimick & Co., Pittsburgh, is meeting with great demand. It consists of an arbor with flanges which clasp the coulter in such manner as, like a nut, to hold it permanently and insure it revolving in a true vertical line. One of the flanges is supplied with an axis which passes through the coulter and upon which the other flange is screwed as a nut. The device is suitable for fastening circular saws or any similar machine where permanency and accuracy are desirable.

PRESIDENT EMERSON lately enumerated some of the Beaver Falls interests in an address to the Board of Trade at that place, as follows: "The cutlery works, the most extensive in the country; the file works, the largest in the world; the axe and hoe works, the most extensive in the West; the shovel manufactory, overflowing and compelled to extend its boundaries to keep pace with its increasing demand; the hinge works, one of the most complete in the country; the glass works, paper mill, knob works, flouring mills, door and sash factories, saw mills, three brick yards and the manufactory for brushes, representing an aggregate capital of more than $2,000,000, with ample and liberal banking facilities for almost any extent of business. Already the goods manufactured amount in round numbers to upwards of $1,800,000 per annum."

THE Juniata Iron Works—Shoenberger & Co., Pittsburgh—is one of the most reputable in the United States, and, in their specialties, one of the largest capacity. Their works in Pittsburgh comprise two blast furnaces, sheet rolling mill, horse shoe machines, and 90 nail machines, covering ten acres of ground; and the work is conducted so systematically as to make the premises appear like parlor shops. Last year their product of nails amounted to nearly 200,000 kegs. They have a capacity of 750 kegs of nails per day, 200 kegs horse shoes per day, and 6 tons sheet iron per day. They produce, also, 500 tons pig iron per week—employ 500 men—own ore and coal mines, and, in short have reduced business to such a system as but few iron works have arrived at. Their branch, at 15 Public Landing, Cincinnati, is known through the west. "Shoenberger" and "Juniata" are synonymous in the trade, as par excellence.

THE manufactory of R. C. Schmertz, Esq., is extensively engaged in turning out window glass of extra large sizes and double and extra thick. Since the great advance in the prices of imported glass the demand has increased for the better grades and large sizes of the home production. We are glad to notice that Mr. Schmertz is one of a comparatively few manufacturers that has never let down in the quality of their glass to meet the demand for low prices that has demoralized trade for the past three years. Pittsburgh has a number of such firms in the window glass trade, who have valued the good name of their wares above any temporary advantages to be gained by submitting to the demands for low priced article at the expense of quality, and as should be the result they have weathered the storms with less of loss and more of strength to meet the demands of legitimate trade than those who pursued the opposite course.

HOME NEWS.

The Homestead Bank.

The annual statement of this prosperous institution, which appears in another column, must be entirely satisfactory to its friends. The remarkable success achieved in so short a time is the clearest demonstration that there was a great local necessity for just such an enterprise, and that the "Homestead" scheme is exactly suited to meet it. If this company keeps faith with those who have so liberally responded to its overtures, as we doubt not it will, and thus confirms and justifies the confidence that has been reposed in it, it has before it a magnificent future of profit and public good.

A Rare Chance.

The attention of our readers is directed to advertisement on first page, of a first-class dwelling house for sale, located No. 25 Beech street, Allegheny city. Not only is this house first-class in its location, but also in its size and finish. The location is one of the most desirable, and all the surroundings being of the most pleasant character. It might with propriety be styled a country residence in the heart of the city. It was built expressly for the owner's occupancy and no care or expense was saved to make it a convenient, comfortable and commodious dwelling, being furnished with almost every imaginable modern improvement. To those who are desirous of purchasing a tip-top house, we would say, call at No. 16 West Ohio street, Allegheny city.

Applications for Divorce.

The divorce market was unusually active on Saturday, no less than five cases being called to the attention of the Court.

The first case was that of John T. Bittner, who desired to have the matrimonial contract between himself and Ann Maria Bittner dissolved, on the ground of adultery. They lived together from 1866 to August, 1871.

Maria A. Rice presented her plea for divorce from Benjamin T. Rice, whom she charged with cruelty and desertion. He deserted her in January, 1870.

Robert R. Huston's complaint was adultery, on the part of his wife Angelina. Their married life was a short one—of six weeks duration only.

Mattie Hanna vs. George S. Hanna, on the grounds of adultery. A similar plea was put in, in the case of John Price vs. Catherine Price.

Subpoenas were granted in each case, returnable the first Saturday in March, when the cases will be finally disposed of.

Success the Reward of Merit.

Among the many enterprising establishments of our sister city of Allegheny, none is more worthy of commendation than the Wagon Manufactory of C. Coleman & Son, located on Marion avenue. This establishment is a very bee-hive of industry, order and regularity. The precision of clock-work characterizes the very minutiae of every operation. Judicious care is exercised by the proprietors in the selection of durable material from the most favorable localities, and even the very semblance of a flaw condemns a piece of material to the rubbish pile. But their careful attention does not end with the selection of the wood to be used, but extends to its every manipulation until its finds its proper place in the perfect, finished wagon. And this rule of their house, to make the very best womanship of the very best material, is meeting with abundant success in the numerous orders they are constantly receiving from all parts of the country, being often compelled to run double turn in order to supply the demand for their work. They have made in one week as high as three hundred and sixty-eight wheelbarrows, and when we take into account the fact that each is composed of twenty-seven individual and distinct pieces, making in the aggregate nine thousand, nine hundred and twenty-six pieces, we have an idea of the great amount of work done, in this minor department alone. But the especial feature of their manufacture is the "Iron Axle Thimble-Skein Wagon," which wherever introduced has given perfect satisfaction, and made a demand for this peculiar style of wagon. In proof of this, one of these peculiar wagons being sold into a certain section of Armstrong county was the means of selling more than a dozen others of the same kind, in that locality within a few months. Its durability, lightness of draught, quality and neatness of workmanship and finish making it the farmer's sine qua non. Another popular feature is the reasonableness of their prices and a guarantee of all their work to the letter of representation.

Y. M. C. A. Monthly Meeting.

On Saturday evening the monthly business meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the Association rooms, at Sixth street and Penn avenue. The exercises were of their usually interesting character. After the devotional exercises, which occupied about fifteen minutes, a half-hour was devoted to the hearing of the reports of the various committees, with reference to the work of the Association, and the discussion of plans and suggestions with regard to future operations.

After the business of the evening had been disposed of, the Rev. S. F. Scovel, of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, was introduced, and delivered a highly interesting and very instructive lecture, upon the subject, "Courage an Element of Christian Character." The lecture was brief—made necessarily so by the shortness of time allotted to that portion of the evening's entertainment—but it contained much food for thought and incentive for action, and withal it was beautiful in its conception, faultless in diction, and delivered in the eloquent and forcible manner which is a well-known characteristic of the pastor of the First Church.

Music also lent its charm and added its part to the impressiveness and interest of the occasion, the choir of the Second Presbyterian Church, under the leadership of Mr. Darling, having volunteered their services. Several beautiful anthems were sung, among which were "Consider the Lilies," "The Lord's my Shepherd," and others of a like character.

It was reported that eight new sustaining members had been obtained during the past month. The names of two persons for active membership were suggested, and by a vote of the association they were admitted.

It was announced that the Rev. W. D. Howard, D. D., would deliver a sermon under the auspices of the association, on Sabbath evening, February 4th, and that Professor Jillson, of the High School, would, on the 5th prox., deliver the next lecture of the course, on the subject of "The Darwinian Hypothesis."

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Man Crushed to Death in a Coal Pit.

A horrible accident occurred on Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, at the coal pit of Dickson, Stewart & Co., located near Swissvale, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which resulted in the death of a digger named Andrew Taylor. He was engaged at the time in separating the coal from an immense piece of slate on the roof of the pit, when the latter suddenly gave way and fell upon the unfortunate man, crushing him into a shapeless mass, and killing him instantly. The remains were removed to the boarding house of deceased near by, where an inquest was held yesterday afternoon, by Coroner West. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

Deceased was twenty-nine years of age, and leaves a wife and three children, who are at present in Scotland. He had been in this country but a short time, and the only relative known to be in this country is a brother, who works at the coal works where the unfortunate man was killed.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

A Child Run Over and Seriously Injured.

A little after noon on Saturday, a runaway occurred on Robinson street, Allegheny, which came near resulting fatally to a lad named John Smith, a little four-year old, and son of Mr. S. B. Smith, a member of Common Council from the First ward. A horse attached to a feed wagon, owned by a Mr. Lappie, had been left standing on Federal street. The animal taking fright ran away. Turning the corner at Robinson street, it continued on at a rapid pace to Darrah street, where the child was struck and knocked down, two wheels passing over his breast. A gentleman who witnessed the accident picked up the injured child and carried him to the office of Dr. Hezlep, near by, where medical attendance was furnished. It was discovered that, although no bones were broken, the child was quite seriously injured, and he was for a time unconscious. In the evening he was conveyed to his home, and is being attended by Dr. Mowry, the family physician, who is of opinion that the child will recover.

ACCIDENT ON THE A. V. R. R.

A Passenger Train Thrown from the Track into the River—List of the Persons Injured.

On Saturday a serious accident occurred to a passenger train on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, near Foster's Station. The entire train was thrown from the track, and rolled over an embankment into the river. Fortunately the water at the point was very shallow, and the accident was not so serious as it otherwise might have been. The cars were badly wrecked, and some eighteen or twenty passengers and employees on the train were more or less injured. There were but two, however—Thomas King and A. A. Richardson—dangerously injured. A broken rail is supposed to have been the cause of the accident. Following is a list of the injured: Thomas King, Franklin; Thomas Donatny, Greenville, Pa.; J. J. Haight, Pleasantville; Mrs. L. C. Hart, Pleasantville; F. G. Ball, Petersburg, Clarion county, Pa.; Wm. Coyle, Scrubgrass; H. S. Galte, Tidioute; Wm. Wilkinson, Petersburg; Wm. Wilson, Northeast, Erie county, Pa.; Robert Welsh, Colorado, Warren county, Pa.; Wm. H. Fowler, Scrubgrass; H. A. Coffin, Petroleum Centre; F. Marion, Foxburg; A. A. Richardson, Foxburg; L. Walthour, engineer; Con. Tarr, conductor; Mr. McKee, fireman; U. S. Grant, train-boy, Petersburg; S. S. Cunningham, Petersburg.

A SAD FATE.

A Railroad Contractor Found in a Dying Condition on Saturday Evening—Death from Injuries and Exposure—Coroner's Inquest.

On Saturday evening about eight o'clock, Michael Maddigan, a well-known railroad contractor, was found by Mr. Michael Murray, lying at the foot of the stairway leading from Duquesne Way to the South end of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway bridge. Maddigan said he was very sick, but could not tell what was the matter. A few moments after a man named David Wise came along, and the two decided to call a petrolman to take care of Maddigan. When the petrolman and a comrade arrived the injured man was breathing heavily and evidently dying. They procured a wagon at once, but before he could be removed to the Central Station House life was extinct. It is supposed he had been on his way home to Allegheny in an intoxicated condition, and while going up the long flight of steps to the passage way on the bridge, fell backward to the street below.

Coroner West yesterday held an inquest on the body at the Central Station House. A son of deceased, aged about fifteen years, testified that he, in company with his father, came over to the city on Saturday afternoon; his father met some acquaintances, and the whole party visited several taverns and had six or seven drinks. When he left deceased, about six in the evening, he was very much intoxicated.

Dr. Rodgers examined the body and found a slight wound on the head, a fracture of the thigh, and the dislocation of the hip joint. He was of the opinion that the wounds were caused by a fall, as there were no external marks or bruises. The doctor was of opinion, also, that he died from the injuries and exposure. A verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered.

The deceased was a native of Ireland, and about fifty-three years of age. He leaves a wife and one child—the son above referred to—who reside at South Canal street, Allegheny. After the conclusion of the inquest, the remains were removed to his late home.

In the bankruptcy branch of the United States District Court, a petition was filed by Messrs. Carr, McCandless & Co., and Messrs. Morganstern & Co., asking that C. W. Bingham, of New Castle, Pa., be adjudged a bankrupt. The petitioners allege that Bingham is indebted to them in the sums of $231 and $191 respectively, and that he has made assignments and given warrants to confess judgment for the purpose of giving preference to certain parties over other creditors.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.

Meeting of the Health Board on Saturday Afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon a regular meeting of the Board of Health was held at the office, on Fourth avenue, Dr. McCandless in the chair. Warrants for the following amounts were ordered to be drawn: N. J. Bigley, for coal, $3 60; W. C. McCarthy, for cleaning cess-pools, $303, and Miles D. Brown, one month's wages, $36. There yet remains a balance of $125 that is to be collected from persons who have not had their vaults cleansed. For the past week thirteen new cases of small-pox were reported; four were removed to the hospital, and the deaths numbered but four.

At the suggestion of the health-officer the following amendments to the regulations of the Board of Health were adopted: In section fourth, relating to physicians' certificates of death, the words "duration of last illness" were stricken out and the name of the father and mother ordered to be inserted. In section fifth, relating to the returns of births, the word "monthly" was stricken out, and it was so amended as to read "quarterly, or within ten days thereafter." In case physicians midwives and clergymen have no deaths, births or marriages to report, a resolution was adopted ordering them to indorse a blank certificate stating they had no returns to make, and sign and transmit it to the health-officer.

The bill lately read in the legislature empowering the Board of Health to make rules and regulations, and giving them fuller legal power than they now possess, a contains certain sections that are obnoxious to some classes of people. Section twenty-second prevents any fat or soap-boiling establishment operating within the city limits. Mr. Wilson, who owns a soap-boiling establishment on Fourth avenue, appeared before the board Saturday, and protested against the adoption of that section. He stated that he had been in business in this city for over thirty years, and no one had yet complained of his manufactory as a nuisance, and he did not think it just to compel him to cease business now. The protest of Mr. Wilson had the desired effect, for a motion was made and carried that the Health Officer be instructed to request the solicitor to prepare a section giving the Board of Health supervisory power over soap-boiling establishments, said section to take the place of one that had already been reported.

The Health Officer was instructed to notify Councils at their meeting this afternoon that it was necessary to elect three new members to the Board of Health to take the places of those whose terms had expired.

On motion, adjourned.

NO SOUTH SIDE CITY.

The Vote On Saturday—The Consolidation Project a Failure.

On Saturday a vote of the people was taken in the boroughs of Birmingham, East Birmingham and St. Clair, on the question of consolidation into a South Side city, and, as the result below will attest, the sentiment of a large proportion of the people was shown to be decidedly averse to that sort of consolidation. The vote was not so heavy as was anticipated, but it was amply sufficient to show the current of popular feeling in that question. The vote resulted as follows:

	For.	Against.
Birmingham, First precinct	60	219
Birmingham, Second precinct	136	208
East Birmingham, First ward	104	163
East Birmingham, Second ward	143	258
St. Clair borough	91	38
Total	534	826
Majority against consolidation in the three boroughs		292
Birmingham's majority against		231
E. Birmingham's majority against		114
St. Clair's majority for		53
Total vote polled in the three boroughs		1,360

The feeling, particularly in Birmingham and East Birmingham, seems to be decidedly in favor of consolidation with Pittsburgh; and had the vote been upon that issue, we doubt not the result would have been directly opposite to that indicated above.

ALDERMAN KERR.

His Answer—He Holds an Office in the Ward—And is Determined to Keep His Seat.

A few days ago we referred to a petition which had been filed in the Court of Common Pleas, asking for a writ of quo warranto to unseat Alderman R. H. Kerr, who now wields the magisterial baton in the Ninth ward, Allegheny. The ground of the claim against the Alderman is that he is not a resident of the ward and was not at the time of his election.

The answer to this petition was filed on Saturday by the counsel for Mr. Kerr. In substance it sets forth that prior to his election to the aldermanship, he (Kerr) was a justice of the peace in McClure township and had an office there. That subsequently that part of the township was annexed to the Ninth ward, Allegheny. He further says: "That at the time of being elected and commissioned an alderman in and for the said Ninth ward of the city of Allegheny and ex-officio justice, he kept, occupied, and still doth hold, keep and occupy, within said ward an office in which he discharged the duties devolving upon him as an Alderman of said ward and city." In view of these circumstances, Mr. Kerr claims that he is legally entitled to hold his seat.

The petition was filed, and the case goes on the argument list.

KEPT THE PENSION.

Serious Charge Against an Attorney.

District Attorney Swoope has on hand another alleged pension forgery, similar in some respects to that in which Turner was engaged. The accused party in this case is Mr. A. Wylie Wilson, a member of the Washington county bar, and resident of Washington, Pa. In substance the charge against him is that he procured a pension of $678, the claim for which had been put in his hands by Mr. John Lennox, father of John E. Lennox, who was a member of Company L, Second U. S. Cavalry. Instead, however, of handing the papers over to Mr. Lennox, it is alleged that he forged that gentleman's name to the receipt and the paymaster's check, and then kept the money which he procured by this means.

Mr. Lennox made an information against him before Commissioner Gamble, on Friday afternoon, and on Saturday morning the officer went to Washington, and arrested Wilson. He will be brought to the city this morning, and held in bail for trial at the February term of court, which commences next week. It is proper to say that this is but one side of the story, and the other may place the matter in a different light.

Mr. E. De Roy, the well-known pawn and diamond broker, in the GAZETTE building, has just returned from the east with one of the finest assortments of first water diamonds ever opened in this city. In such goods it is very difficult to find a better assortment than what Mr. De Roy exposes for sale, and he is always inside reasonable prices, maintaining high character for honorable and honest dealing.

The place to buy Marbleized Mantels, good and cheap, is where they are manufactured at 319 and 321 Liberty street, one square below the Grain Elevator. This is the only place in Western Pennsylvania where they are made.

BREVITIES.

CITY COUNCILS this afternoon at the usual place and hour.

RUMOR does say that one of the journalists of this city will March 4th from single blessedness and Lead-'er to the altar.

CAPT. R. C. GRAY, S. Horner, Joseph Walton and N. J. Bigley left for Washington City yesterday on Ohio river business.

A VERDICT was given against the Knickerbocker Life Insurance Company, in New York, in the case of a policy of $10,000, upon the life of a suicide.

A NOVELTY in the way of a sail boat on skates appeared on the Allegheny river on Saturday afternoon. The speed and gracefulness of its movements were universally admired.

THE forgery case, which was to have been heard before the Mayor on Saturday afternoon, was postponed until Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, in compliance with the request of counsel on both sides.

MAJ. A. M. BROWN has consented to allow his friends to use his name for District Judgeship. The Major has hosts of friends throughout the county, who know he is well fitted for the position, and will leave nothing undone to nominate him.

WE had the pleasure of meeting our old friend, Mr. W. R. Hayden, formerly the "pilot" of the Oates Company, but now the advance agent of Mrs. Thomas Macready. Mr. Hayden is a very competent and successful agent, and a courteous and genial gentleman.

THE young girl from Robinson township, whose case was mentioned in Saturday's paper as having left her home some months since, on Saturday returned to her home with her father. In justice to the girl we will state that she avers that, since her arrival in the city, she has been living as a domestic in a respectable family.

YESTERDAY afternoon, as a number of boys were skating on the ice immediately above the St. Clair street bridge, one of them venturing on a dangerous place, broke through. Catching on the edge of the unbroken ice, however, he managed to keep his head above water, until a skiff was brought from the Pittsburgh shore to his rescue.

A VERY PLEASANT musical and social club of young gentlemen, has been orgazized and named in honor of Mr. Thomas McKee, of First avenue, in whose parlors the meetings are held. We hope to announce that a concert under the auspices of the new club will be held in some of our public halls, and can promise in advance a rare musical feast, as many excellent vocalists are enrolled as members.

ONE DAY last week two men, whose names we could not learn, jumped aboard the train on the Baltimore and Connellsville Railroad, coming this way, to ride between Concord and Castle's stations. They attempted to get off while the train was in motion, and one was instantly killed and the other seriously injured. Conductor Robert Frazier, who had charge of the train, immediately halted when the accident was discovered, and afforded all possible comfort and attention to the surviving man.

ALL the conductors save four, on the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Passenger Railway, as they handed in their cards on Saturday evening, also tendered their resignations, having concluded, as they state, that it was only a question of time with them—that they would have to quit sooner or later, as new men were being put on the road every day. Yesterday morning all the "subs" were put on, and still there were not sufficient men to run all the cars; but by noon the vacancies had all been filled, and the cars were running as usual.

WE HAVE this morning the pleasure of tendering our hearty and earnest congratulations to our very worthy friend Mr. Henry F. Dannals, of the famous brewry firm of Pier, Dannals & Co., of this city, who was united in matrimony on Thursday evening of last week to an accomplished lady of this city. Mr. Dannals is one of our most successful representative young business men, and we are glad that he has furnished this fresh evidence of solid sense in uniting his fortune and fate, through life to death, for the better or worse, to the maiden worthy of his hand and heart. The happy couple have our best wishes for their welfare, and "may they live long and prosper."

A MEMORIAL twenty-two feet long, and having nearly two thousand signatures, was forwarded for presentation to Congress to General James S. Negley, on Saturday, by the employes of the American Iron Works of Messrs. Jones & Laughlins of this city. It prays that ample protection may be afforded their industry, and that no change in the present tariff laws be made by Congress. The movement originated with the men themselves, and speaks well for their intelligence and political sagacity. If men employed in all the great workshops of the land should follow the good example set thus by the American Mill employes, a good effect would follow in the advancement of the interests of home labor. All credit to the spirited working classes who are fearless in demanding their rights at the hands of the law-makers.

"OUR UNIVERSITY."

The poem appended below was read by one of the members of the Junior Class of the Western University, at the exhibition given by them, a few evenings ago, at Lafayette Hall:

"OUR UNIVERSITY."

The path to fame's a rugged road,
But then its sweetness is more sweet
To think that when we've borne the load
Along the way with wearied feet,
That prizes of much worth we'll find.
And as our journey's end draws nigh,
Large stores of truth enrich each mind,
And larger fields before us lie.

A college, as you are aware,
A proffer makes its aid to lend
To those who're struggling everywhere
Their way in wisdom's fields to wend;
And when an offer fair is made,
Like this, of knowledge to bestow,
To draw us out from darkness' shade,
Make culture and refinement grow.

It seems to me there should be none
This noble offer to refuse;
When education may be won,
'Tis sad, indeed, the prize to lose.
The Western University
A fair and grand proposal makes;
And with your aid prosperity
Will fall on all she undertakes.

Her offer is to educate
Your sons in learning choice and rare;
Thus fitted for the church or State
They may the robe or ermine wear.
But in return she asks that you
Will not encouragement withhold,
But grant to her what is but due,
A portion of your time and gold.

Already offers have been made,
And many more, no doubt, there 'll be;
A firm foundation has been laid
For this, our University.
But now, a tale I must relate;
'Tis all about a certain man;
The man still lives e'en in this State;
I'll tell the facts as best I can.

Last year I was a Sophomore,
And felt as grand as Sophs all do;
I met, one day, a friend of yore,
Said he, "I'm well, pray how are you?"
"Tip-top," said I, "and glad to see
You looking well, but come with me,
And for to-day my guest you'll be,
You're just in time, we dine at three.

As on we went, and on the way,
We talked of friends both far and near,
Of all the topics of the day;
At last my friend remarked: "I hear
You are going now to school,
The University, they say."
"Well, yes," said I, "its been my rule
To try to walk in wisdom's way."

"But when up there you are quite through,
And learned all they can teach, you know,
What then do you intend to do?
D'ye think you will to college go?"
"Zounds! sir," said I, "I'd have you know
No better college can be found
Than where I do at present go;
The classics clear—the logic sound;

"The trustees good; the Prof's. well read,
The President a faithful man;
The students too beat those, 'tis said
At Harvard, Yale or Michigan.
Was e'er a Soph so vexed before?
I could'nt dine with such a dolt,
So when we came in front our door,
I slipped within and closed the bolt,

And never stopped to look outside
To see what the poor wretch would do,
But rushed up stairs to soothe my pride,
And rest and calmness both to woo.
I know you'll not approve the step,
But then, kind friends, 'twas very sore
To be considered a mere "prep,"
And I a college Sophomore.

But now a brighter day draws near;
Our Alma Mater soon shall rise
To occupy her proper sphere;
The time not far before us lies.
A few years from to-night when we,
The rank of colleges shall see,
The name that heads the list will be
That of "Our University."

Public Entertainments.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE—The matinee and evening performances on Saturday were literally jammed, to see the wonderful boy actor, and we hope Master Percy will return ere the season closes. To-night the beautiful and accomplished pantomimist and danseuse, Morlacchi, will appear in the grand military spectacle entitled the "French Spy," supported by Manager Beamer's excellent stock company. We anticipate her engagement will be the most successful one of the season. The box office will be open from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., where the gentlemanly and very obliging Treasurer, Mr. Billy Love, will be found in attendance.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—"Through Fire" was witnessed by a large number at the matinee on Saturday afternoon. The interest felt in the success of this home production does not seem to lessen with our theatre-goers. In the evening Mr. Irwin, the comedian, took a benefit; the house, however, was a poor tribute to the actor. At the close of the first play, "Miriam's Crime," Mr. Irving was called before the curtain, and was the recipient of an elegant bouquet by Mr. Zittebart, the leader of the orchestra. As he was about to leave the stage, Mr. Harry Ellsler stepped from behind the scenes, and in a very appropriate speech presented Mr. Irving a handsome and valuable gold-headed cane, a token of regard from his admirers, which was received by Mr. Irving in a happy manner and responded in a befitting speech. To-night Mr. Forrest's second week's engagement, "King Lear." It is quite advisable to those who intend seeing Mr. F. to procure secured seats.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—On Monday evening next, February 5th, Mrs. Macready will appear for one night only in her wonderful impersonation of "Shylock," and the only lady who has every attempted this most difficult role. A full star company, each star being specially selected for their parts, will support Mrs. Macready,—among which we notice the names of Mr. J. H. Taylor and Mr. Joe Sefton and lady, the latter a great favorite here, and the announcement of which will be hailed with pleasure by their many friends in the city. The press speaks in glowing terms of Mrs Macready and her company, and we are confident that she will meet with a hearty reception at the Academy on Monday evening next.

LIBRARY HALL.—Wachtel, the greatest tenor of the present age—so considered by competent judges, gives us a four nights' season of opera, commencing to-morrow, Tuesday evening. From present indications, the company will undoubtedly have crowded, if not overflowing houses. Seats can be secured at Kleber Bros.' music store.

LIBRARY HALL.—On Thursday evening next the world renowned Temperance lecturer will deliver his lecture on "Temperance" under the auspices of the Young Men's Library Association. Secure your tickets early.

FIFTH AVENUE MASONIC HALL.—Robitzer's Panorama of the late Franco-Prussian War is drawing splendid houses nightly. Go and see it.

SOTHERN "the great and only Lord Dundreary"—on Monday evening, February 5th, at the New Opera House.

The very severe weather of the past few days has forcibly called to mind the importance of being comfortably clad, and young gentlemen and old gentlemen have been thronging the elegant establishment of Messrs. Urling, Follansbee & Co., southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street, where such garments as they needed, fashionably made and at reasonable prices, might be had.

THE FEE BILL.

The Members of the Bar Urge the Passage of the Bill Now Before the Legislature.

The passage of a new fee bill, or something which will better answer the purpose than the enactment which is now in force, is engaging the attention of the legal fraternity. The members of our bar have united in the following petition, which indicates their wishes in the matter:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

We, the undersigned members of the Pittsburgh Bar, respectfully present:

That, whereas, the bill approved the 6th day of April, A. D. 1871, entitled "An Act regulating the fees in the different offices in Allegheny county," (known as White's fee bill) has proved impracticable and cumbrous in its operation, and most unsatisfactory in its effects, and is wrong in principle, because it compels an unfortunate class to supply the county treasury out of their misfortune, when justice should be cheap and readily accessible; and, whereas, it is easily practicable to frame a bill which will give to officers nothing beyond a fair remuneration, and at the same time secure the public against imposition, but render justice cheap and free; and whereas, it is believed that the bill now before your honorable bodies is calculated to promote these ends; therefore we, the members of the bar of Allegheny county, respectfully unite in recommending the passage of said bill, and we will ever pray, &c.:

FIRST WARD ALDERMANSHIP.

The Case Decided at Last—Alderman Humbert to Retain his Seat—A few Words from the Court.

The Hay-Humbert case was decided at last on Saturday. Our readers will remember that Capt. Hay and Andrew Humbert were rival candidates for the First Ward Pittsburgh Aldermanship; that at the election the contest was very close; when the polls were closed and the vote first counted that Hay was one vote ahead. A second count was taken, and Humbert came out four votes ahead. Another count was taken and Humbert came out ahead and he was declared elected.

Subsequently it was alleged that the ballot box had been "stuffed," and the attention of the Court was called to the matter. The case hung on for about a year, when some new life was recently infused into it by the appointment of a Commissioner to take new testimony. That was taken and published and the case then submitted to the Court for final decision.

The end was reached at last on Saturday, when in the Court of Common Pleas, the petition of Capt. Hay to have Humbert ousted, was dismissed. In announcing this conclusion Judge Stowe said:

"In this case we are both (Judges Sterrett and Stowe) of the opinion that the petition must be dismissed. We have no time to prepare a formal opinion, but so far as the merits of the case are concerned, the question turns upon whether the first general count, called by the petitioners the second count, is shown to be erroneous or fraudulent. The evidence is overwhelming that such count was correct as to the votes actually in the ballot box at the time the count was made, and nothing is shown which even tends to indicate that any of those votes then counted were improperly placed in the box.

"As to the last count when the votes on both sides were so largely increased, there is certainly something very extraordinary in that fact, but assuming that the additional votes found on that count were fraudulent, this cannot affect the merits of the preceding count, which appears to have been honest and correct. We feel bound to say, however, that the weight of evidence is clearly that the fraud in the last count (if fraud there was) was not committed as alleged by the petitioners in their evidence."

A Vigorous Brass Band in Montreal.

[From the Montreal Gazette, Jan. 24.]

About 8:40 o'clock last night the wide roof of the Drill Shed came with a crash to the ground. Fortunately the wings of the structure in which are situated the armories of the different volunteer regiments, have escaped injury, and no damage has been done to the immense number of rifles, accoutrements, and other Government property stowed in them. In the interior of the building is to be seen nothing but one wide expanse of broken timber, twisted iron, and masses of snow and ice.

According to usual custom, the band of the Prince of Wales Rifle Regiment had assembled on their regular practice night in their band room on the west side of the building at 8 o'clock and were playing with might and main the martial tune of "British Grenadiers," when they were disturbed by the entree of numerous stones into the room through the window. Under the impression that they were attacked by a mob of rowdies, they continued playing the tune louder and louder until another volley of stones, accompanied by the appearance of a man at the window, so arroused their ire that with one accord they dropped their instruments and ran out to meet the supposed attacking party, but only to find the calm moonlight shining peacefully on the unshapen mass of ruins where was once the hard trodden floor of the drill shed. Comprehending the situation at a glance, the men remained quietly in the body of the shed until the rear door was broken open by some persons outside, and so they made their escape. Of course the sounds first heard by them were the same as heard by the persons descending St. Gabriel street, and the stones were sent through the windows by individuals outside to warn them of their perilous position. So great, however, was the noise made by the fifes and drums of the band that the roof had crashed in and all danger had passed, and yet not one of the bandsmen had heard any sound but that made by the instruments in their hands. The drill-shed was completed and handed over to the civil authorities in the fall of 1869, at a cost of nearly $70,000. It covers an extent of over two acres of ground, and was roofed with what was called segmental girders, with tierods, the whole resting on iron shoes securely fastened to the stone wall. What was the cause of the accident it is hard to say. There was a considerable quantity of snow on the roof, but not nearly the quantity there was on it this time last year. By many it is said that the sudden change from mild to severe weather which took place yesterday afternoon had so contracted the iron girders of the roof that they snapped, and so left no support for the rafters, which at once gave.

ADVICES from Melbourne, Australia, say that the observation of the solar eclipse there was a failure, on account of cloudy weather.

THE PENNSYLVANIA OIL FIELD.

RAILWAY PROJECTED.

Some of the officers of the Shenango and Allegheny Railroad Company, says the Oil Man's Journal, met at the Phillips House, Parker Station, to consider the project of extending the road from Harrisville to Parker's Landing. The officers assert that the work will cost from $500,000 to $600,000, and propose to do it if the citizens of Parker and others living along the line will subscribe one-half the stock required. Liberal amounts are already being subscribed, and the indications are that the road will be commenced and speedily pushed to completion.

ALLENDER RUN.

The Petroleum Centre Record says: We learn that oil matters on Allender Run and vicinity are beginning to be quite lively. One well is now down about 300 feet, located on the McIntire farm. Another rig on the lease adjoining, same farm, is nearly completed and drilling will begin the present week. Still another rig is up and nearly ready to commence drilling, on a tract of land adjoining the McNutt farm on the west. On the Ware tract, or Allender as it is sometimes called, owned in fee by our townsmen, Messrs. J. M. Kepler & Co., a well is down and cased to the depth of 300 feet. This last mentioned tract joins the Copeland farm near Pothole, on which there is a well located near the line, which has been flowing about a barrel per day of excellent green oil for over two years. There is also a pumping well on the east side of said tract, near the line, which is yielding about 1½ barrels per day. Allender Run is but a short distance from the big wells at Cash Up, and land in that vicinity is being rapidly hunted by oil operators.

As far back as 1865 Allender Run was widely known for its large gas wells, in that respect very much resembling the East Sandy territory. There is not much doubt but that good wells will be struck in that vicinity, and it would not be surprising if another oil excitement would break out before many months.

The Tidioute Journal gives the daily production of that field at 1,479 barrels. The number of wells on the Tidioute and Warren Oil Company's tract, is 33; New York and Allegheny Oil Company's land, 32; Triumph tract, 60; Wallace tract, 4; Gillan tract, 7; Allen tract, 7; Alcorn tract, 2; New London, 18; Owen, 3; Chapp farm, 27; Grandin & Green, 8; Wilson, 1; Dennis Run and New York, 29; Dengley, 2; Economy Oil Company's tract, 29; Buck tract, 7.

THE PARKER FIELD.

The Oil Man's Journal says: Extensive developments are being made each week Northwest and South-east of us. In both directions large wells are being struck. It is hard to tell in fact, in which the best wells are being obtained; but the drilling to the North-east is not so deep as on the other end of the belt, consequently the largest crowds are flocking to the vicinity of Petersburg at the present time.

NEW TERRITORY.

The Columbia Oil Company have sunk a well to the third sand, on the Redick farm, in Butler county, about two miles west of Lawrenceburg, near Little Bear Creek. Although the sand has been penetrated but a few feet the well has filled up with oil to a considerable extent, which flows therefrom at intervals in large quantities. This well has every appearance of proving a good one, the striking of which will develope a large amount of new territory.

BLACK FARM.

This farm, located west of Parker's Landing, is now owned by Phillips Bros., ex-Governor Bigler, Fertig & Hammond, Orange Noble, S. D. Karns and McKinney & Nesbitt. There are now ten pumping wells on the farm, yielding in the aggregate over 300 barrels of oil per day. Mr. John Preston and others are about completing a well on this tract which promises to rank among the best in the district. While the drilling process is being continued, large quantities of oil flow at intervals therefrom.

FOX FARM.

Mr. J. L. Brown, of Pleasantville, has recently completed a well on the Fox lands, not far from the Milford and Jamison farms, which is represented as yielding about 30 barrels of oil per day.

PETERSBURG DISTRICT.

On Monday of this week, a well owned by Segans and others, on the Daniel Ritz farm, about three-fourths of a mile south-east of Petersburg, was completed and commenced to pump. Although the water was not eased off until after the drilling process had been completed, we are told that in twenty-four hours after putting the pump into operation, the well was yielding oil at the rate of about 100 barrels per day, and during the second and third day's pumping, it is said the production exceeded 100 barrels per day. If these reports are not exagerated this well will no doubt prove the largest that has been sunk in the district.

At Kings Mill, near the head waters of Ritchie Run, about half way between Emlenton and Petersburg, a new well was finished and commenced pumping on Wednesday last, yielding oil, it is said by those who witnessed its operations on first starting up, at the rate of 50 barrels per day. This well was drilled through large casing and its production will decrease. Other wells not far distant from it have only yielded two or three barrels per day.

The Petroleum Centre Record spoke of a gas vein having been struck some weeks ago near Petersburg, which blew casing, tools and everything else out of the hole. If the Record spoke truthfully the tools are still up in the air, and it is to be presumed the well will be drilled deeper as soon as they come down.

SHAKELY FARM.

The well owned by Lambing Bros. and others, on the Shakely Farm, one-and-a-half miles east of Martinsburg, has been completed and pumping for some days averaging a production of 70 or 75 barrels per day.

TIONESTA.

A new well is to be put down back of the old Sowers' farm at Tionesta in March.
